PREFACE

Three important changes appear in this (1951) edition of the DISCIPLINE.

1. There is the new, or revised, constitution, embodying those basic points of doctrine, law, and practice which it is generally agreed ought not to be changed except by joint action of the General Conference and the annual conferences. The new constitution seeks to remove certain ambiguities and to establish the government of the church on more democratic bases in harmony with accepted American constitutional procedures. One of the more significant constitutional changes is the establishment of a supreme judiciary, with limited jurisdiction, independent of the General Conference.

The new constitution, prepared by the 1951 General Conference, provided that all measures falling within the scope of the "restrictive rules" should, after approval by two thirds of the members of the General Conference and three fourths of the aggregate vote of the members present and voting in the annual conferences, become effective upon announcement of such approval in the official church publication, and that the remainder of the constitution should become effective upon approval by a two-thirds vote of the General Conference and a majority of the aggregate votes of the annual conferences. The 1951 General Conference approved the new constitution by the required two-thirds vote and submitted it to the annual conferences for ratification. The secretary of the General Conference announced on 13 November 1951 (Free Methodist, p. 5) that all parts of the new constitution had been approved by more than 92% of the aggregate votes cast in the annual conferences and that the new constitution had, therefore, been adopted.

2. The 1951 General Conference ordered deleted from the DISCIPLINE and transferred to the Digest of Free Methodist Law the resolutions and rulings formerly appearing in Chapter IV of the Appendix. The editors were, however, directed to integrate into the text of the DISCIPLINE such of these rulings as had not been repealed or rendered irrelevant by later legislation. The editors have tried conscientiously to preserve everything of consequence and to insert it in the right place in the body of the text.

3. The paragraphs have been completely renumbered to relieve the overcrowding which has confused the numbering in recent editions of the DISCIPLINE. The new system not only leaves in nearly every chapter unused numbers available for future legislation but makes use of the DISCIPLINE easier. It will soon be noticed, for instance, that all the general bodies of the church are covered by Paragraphs 100-199: General Conference, by Pars. 100-109; the Board of Administration, by Pars. 110-119; the Executive Commission, by Pars. 120-139; and the like. Paragraphs 1-99 cover everything through Part II; Paragraphs 200-299, the annual conferences and smaller units; Paragraphs 300-399, the Ministry and Judicial Administration; Paragraphs 400-499, Temporal Economy and Ritual; and Paragraphs 500-599, Courses of Study and Appendix.

ORIGIN AND CHARACTER

¶ 1. Dearly Beloved: We think it expedient to give you a brief account of the origin and character of Free Methodism.

Wesley says: "In 1729 two young men in England, reading the Bible, saw they could not be saved without holiness, followed after it, and incited others so to do. In 1737 they saw, likewise, that men are justified before they are sanctified; but still holiness was their object. God then thrust them out to raise a holy people."

¶ 2. Methodism spread through England and America, and in other countries. From time to time different bodies arose bearing the Methodist name. As they became popular there was more or less departure from the original principles and practice of Methodism.

¶ 3. In the Genesee Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, about the year 1858, several preachers and many members were excluded from the church on various charges and allegations, but really for their adherence to the principles of Methodism; especially to the doctrine and experience of entire sanctification.

¶ 4. Appeals were made to the General Conference which were denied. Those excluded could not join any other Methodist body, for there was none that agreed with them on the issues on which they were thrust out. Therefore they felt compelled to form a new organization.

¶ 5. The Free Methodist Church was organized by a convention of lay members and ministers, which met at Pekin, Niagara County, New York, on the 23rd day of August, 1860. The first General Conference met on the second Wednesday of October, 1862, at St. Charles, Illinois.

¶ 6. The Free Methodists are a body of Christians who profess to be in earnest to get to heaven, by conforming to all the will of God, as made known in His Word. They do not believe that either God or the Bible has changed to accommodate the fashionable tendencies of the age. They solemnly protest against the union of the church and the world. The conditions of salvation, as they teach, are the same now that they were in the days of the apostles. He who would be a Christian in reality, as well as in name, must deny himself, take up his cross daily, and follow Jesus. He must come out from the world and be separate, and touch not the unclean thing.

¶ 7. In doctrine they are Methodists. They believe in the doctrine of the Holy Trinity, in a general atonement, in the necessity of the new birth, in the witness of the Spirit, and in future rewards and punishments. They insist that it is the duty and privilege of every believer to be sanctified wholly, and to be preserved blameless unto the coming of the Lord Jesus Christ. Every one who is received into full connection, either professes to enjoy that perfect love which casts out fear, or promises diligently to seek until he obtains it.

¶ 8. They look upon practical godliness as the never-failing result of a genuine religious experience. "By their fruits ye shall know them." Hence they insist that those who profess to be the disciples of Christ should come out from unbelievers and be separate, abstaining from connection with all secret societies, renouncing all vain pomp and glory, adorning themselves with modest apparel, and not with gold, or pearls, or costly array. We have no right to abolish any of the requirements made by Christ and the apostles; or to make obedience to them a matter of small consequence. The golden rule, they hold, applies equally to all mankind.

¶ 9. The government is not aristocratic, but the lay members have an equal voice with the ministers in all the councils of the church. Both the annual and the general conferences are composed of as many lay as ministerial delegates, who have an equal voice and vote in all the proceedings. The stationing committee, by which the appointments are made, is composed of the district superintendents and an equal number of lay members chosen for that purpose. The official boards are selected by the members of circuits, and not appointed by the preachers. They have district superintendents, who may be appointed to circuits the same as the rest of the preachers. They have bishops elected once in four years, whose duty it is to preside at the annual conferences, and travel through the connection at large. The rights of the members are carefully guarded.

¶ 10. They endeavor to promote spirituality and simplicity in worship. Congregational singing is universal, and singing by choirs in public worship is prohibited. They believe in the Holy Ghost. If men are really converted and sanctified, it is through the Spirit of God. When He works there is a stir. As President Edwards said, "Eternal things are so great, and of such vast concern that there is great absurdity in men being but moderately moved and affected by them." "Where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty." The Free Methodists, while they do not believe in any mere formal noise, yet, when the Spirit comes, like "a rushing mighty wind," as on the day of Pentecost, do not dare to oppose the manifestations of His presence. As Edwards says, "Whenever there is any considerable degree of the Spirit's influence upon a mixed multitude, it will produce, in some way, a great visible commotion." To resist His operations is to hinder the work of God.

¶ 11. They do not believe in resorting to worldly policy to sustain the gospel. Christ has said that whosoever giveth a cup of cold water in His name shall in no wise lose his reward. But it is the motive, and not the amount done, that secures the divine approbation. There is no more virtue in giving to the cause of God for carnal pleasure than there is in any other purely selfish action. Hence they give no countenance to modern expedients for promoting Christianity, such as renting pews, promoting lotteries, fairs, sales, or other like expedients for raising money. To say that the Church cannot be sustained without these contrivances to beguile the world into its support is to confess that professing Christians are "lovers of pleasure more than lovers of God." It is to pronounce Christianity a failure. The gospel possesses an inherent power that will not only sustain itself, but make its way through all opposition, wherever its advocates live up to its requirements and rely upon its promises.

¶ 12. They believe the Church of Christ is a soul-saving institution of divine origin for holy purposes, therefore they prohibit festivals and donation parties, such as include anything in the line of entertainments contrary to the spirit and letter of our DISCIPLINE, and all other forms of worldly amusements in their church buildings or by their church organizations.

¶ 13. All their churches are required to be as free as the grace they preach. They believe that their mission is twofold—to maintain the Bible standard of Christianity, and to preach the gospel to the poor. Hence they require that all seats in their houses of worship shall be free. No pews can be rented or sold among them. The world will never be converted to Christianity when the churches are conducted upon the exclusive system. It has always been contrary to the economy of the Christian Church to build houses of worship with pews to rent. Such renting of pews is a corruption of Christianity. Free churches are essential to reach the masses. The provisions of the gospel are for all. The “glad tidings” must be proclaimed to every individual of the human race. God sends the true light to illuminate and melt every heart. To savage and civilized, bond and free, black and white, the ignorant and the learned, is freely offered the great salvation.

¶ 14. But for whose benefit are special efforts to be put forth? Who must be particularly cared for? Jesus settles this question. “The blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised up,” and, as if all this would be insufficient to satisfy John of the validity of His claims, He adds, “and the poor have the gospel preached to them.” This was the crowning proof that He was the One that should come. In this respect the Church must follow in the footsteps of Jesus. She must see to it that the gospel is preached to the poor. Thus this duty is enjoined by the plainest precepts and examples. If the gospel is to be preached to all, then it follows, as a necessary consequence, that all the arrangements for preaching the gospel should be so made as to secure this object. If it be said that seats would be freely given to those who are unable to pay for them, they answer that this does not meet the case. Few are willing, so long as they are able to appear at church, to be publicly treated as paupers.

¶ 15. You will find in this book the doctrines and form of government of the Free Methodist Church as adopted by the General Conference. We do not wish any to subscribe to it unless they believe it will be for the glory of God and the good of their souls. We have no desire to build up simply a large church; but we do hope that our societies will be composed, exclusively, of those who are in earnest to gain heaven, and who are determined, by the grace of God, to live up to the requirements of the Bible. It is of the greatest importance that those who come into this organization shall be of one heart and one mind.

PREAMBLE

¶ 20. In order that we may wisely preserve and pass on to posterity the heritage of doctrine and principles of Christian living transmitted to us as evangelicals in the Arminian-Wesleyan tradition, insure church order by sound principles and ecclesiastical polity, and prepare the way for evangelization of the world and the more effective cooperation with other branches of the church of Christ in the advancement of Christ's kingdom among men, we, the ministers and lay members of the Free Methodist Church of North America, in accordance with constitutional procedure, do hereby ordain, establish and set forth as the fundamental law or constitution of the Free Methodist Church of North America the Articles of Religion, the Conditions and Rules of Membership, and the Articles of Organization and Government here following, to wit:

DIVISION I

ARTICLES OF RELIGION

I. Of Faith in the Holy Trinity

¶ 21. There is but one living and true God, everlasting, without body or parts, of infinite power, wisdom and goodness, the maker and preserver of all things, visible and invisible. And in unity of this Godhead there are three persons of one substance, power, and eternity—the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost.

II. Of the Word, or Son of God, Who Was Made Very Man

¶ 22. The Son, who is the Word of the Father, the very and eternal God, of one substance with the Father, took man's nature in the womb of the blessed virgin, so that the two whole and perfect natures, that is to say, the Godhead and manhood, were joined together in one person, never to be divided, whereof is one Christ, very God and very man, who truly suffered, was crucified, dead and buried, to reconcile His Father to us, and to be a sacrifice, not only for the original guilt, but also for the actual sins of men.

III. Of the Resurrection of Christ

¶ 23. Christ did truly rise again from the dead, and took again His body, with all things appertaining to the perfection of man's nature, wherewith He ascended into Heaven, and there sitteth until He returns to judge all men at the last day.

IV. Of the Holy Ghost

¶ 24. The Holy Ghost, proceeding from the Father and the Son, is of one substance, majesty and glory with the Father and the Son, very and eternal God.

V. The Sufficiency of the Holy Scriptures for Salvation

¶ 25. The Holy Scriptures contain all things necessary to salvation; so that whatsoever is not read therein, nor may be proved thereby, is not to be required of any man, that it should be believed as an article of faith, or be thought requisite or necessary to salvation. By the term Holy Scriptures we understand those canonical books of the Old and New Testaments of whose authority there was never any doubt in the Church.

The names of the canonical books are: Genesis, Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers, Deuteronomy, Joshua, Judges, Ruth, the First Book of Samuel, the Second Book of Samuel, the First Book of Kings, the Second Book of Kings, the First Book of Chronicles, the Second Book of Chronicles, the Book of Ezra, the Book of Nehemiah, the Book of Esther, the Book of Job, the Psalms, the Proverbs, Ecclesiastes, or the Preacher, Canticles, or the Song of Solomon, Four Prophets the greater, Twelve Prophets the less.

All the books of the New Testament, as they are commonly received, we do receive and account canonical.

VI. Of the Old Testament

¶ 26. The Old Testament is not contrary to the New; for in both the Old and New Testaments everlasting life is offered to mankind by Christ, who is the only Mediator between God and man. Wherefore they are not to be heard who feign that the old fathers did look only for transitory promises. Although the law given from God by Moses, as touching ceremonies and rites, doth not bind Christians, nor ought the civil precepts thereof, of necessity to be received in any commonwealth; yet, notwithstanding, no Christian whatsoever is free from obedience to the commandments which are called moral.

VII. Of Original or Birth Sin

¶ 27. Original sin standeth not in the following of Adam, as the Pelagians do vainly talk, but it is the corruption of the nature of every man that naturally is engendered of the offspring of Adam, whereby man is very far gone from original righteousness, and of his own nature inclined to evil and that continually.

VIII. Of Free Will

¶ 28. The condition of man after the fall of Adam is such that he cannot turn and prepare himself by his own natural strength and works to faith and calling upon God, wherefore we have no power to do good works, pleasing and acceptable to God, without the grace of God by Christ enabling us, that we may have a good will, and working with us, when we have that good will.

IX. Of the Justification of Man

¶ 29. We are accounted righteous before God only for the merit of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ by faith, and not for our own works or deservings; wherefore, that we are justified by faith only, is a most wholesome doctrine, and very full of comfort.

X. Of Good Works

¶ 30. Although good works, which are the fruits of faith and follow after justification, cannot put away our sins and endure the severity of God's judgments, yet they are pleasing and acceptable to God in Christ, and spring out of a true and lively faith, insomuch that by them a lively faith may be as evidently known as a tree is discerned by its fruit.

XI. Of Works of Supererogation

¶ 31. Voluntary works—besides, over and above God's commandments—which are called works of supererogation, cannot be taught without arrogance and impiety. For by them men do declare that they do not only render unto God as much as they are bound to do, but that they do more for His sake than of bounden duty is required; whereas Christ saith plainly, "When ye have done all that is commanded you, say, We are unprofitable servants."

XII. Of Sin After Justification

¶ 32. Not every sin willingly committed after justification is the sin against the Holy Ghost, and unpardonable. Wherefore the grant of repentance is not to be denied to such as fall into sin after justification. After we have received the Holy Ghost, we may depart from grace given, and fall into sin, and by the grace of God rise again and amend our lives. Therefore they are to be condemned who say they can no more sin as long as they live here, or who deny the place of forgiveness to such as truly repent.

XIII. Entire Sanctification

¶ 33. Justified persons, while they do not outwardly commit sin, are nevertheless conscious of sin still remaining in the heart. They feel a natural tendency to evil, a proneness to depart from God and cleave to the things of earth. Those who are sanctified wholly are saved from all inward sin—from evil thoughts and evil tempers. No wrong temper, none contrary to love, remains in the soul. All their thoughts, words, and actions are governed by pure love.

Entire sanctification takes place subsequently to justification, and is the work of God wrought instantaneously upon the consecrated, believing soul. After a soul is cleansed from all sin, it is then fully prepared to grow in grace.

XIV. Future Reward and Punishment

¶ 34. God has appointed a day in which He will judge the world in righteousness by Jesus Christ, according to the gospel. The righteous shall have in heaven an inheritance incorruptible, undefiled, and that fadeth not away. The wicked shall go away into everlasting punishment, where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.

XV. Of Speaking in the Congregation in Such a Tongue as the People Understand ¶ 35. It is a thing plainly repugnant to the Word of God and the custom of the primitive Church to have public prayer in the Church or to minister the sacrament in a tongue not understood by the people.

XVI. Of the Church

¶ 36. The visible Church of Christ is a congregation of faithful men, in which the pure word of God is preached, and the sacraments are duly administered, according to Christ's ordinance, in all those things that of necessity are requisite to the same.

XVII. Of the Sacraments

¶ 37. Sacraments ordained of Christ are not only badges or tokens of Christian men's profession, but also they are certain signs of grace, and of God's good will toward us, by the which He doth work invisibly in us, and doth not only quicken but also strengthen and confirm our faith in Him.

XVIII. Of Baptism

¶ 38. Baptism is not only a sign of profession and mark of difference, whereby Christians are distinguished from others who are not baptized, but it is also a sign of regeneration or the new birth. The baptism of young children is to be retained in the church.

XIX. Of the Lord's Supper

¶ 39. The Supper of the Lord is not merely a sign of the love that Christians ought to have among themselves one to another, but rather is a sacrament of our redemption by Christ's death, insomuch that, to such as rightly, worthily, and with faith receive the same, the bread which we break is a partaking of the body of Christ; and likewise the cup of blessing is a partaking of the blood of Christ.

Transubstantiation, or the change of the substance of bread and wine in the Supper of our Lord, cannot be proved by Holy Writ, but it is repugnant to the plain word of the Scripture, overthroweth the nature of a sacrament, and hath given occasion to many superstitions.

The body of Christ is given, taken and eaten in the Supper, only after a heavenly and spiritual manner; and the means whereby the body of Christ is received and eaten in the Supper, is faith. The sacrament of the Lord's Supper was not by Christ's ordinance reserved, carried about, lifted up, or worshiped.

XX. Of the One Oblation of Christ, Finished upon the Cross

¶ 40. The offering of Christ, once made, is a perfect redemption, propitiation and satisfaction for all the sins of the whole world, both original and actual; and there is none other satisfaction for sin but that alone. Wherefore the sacrifice of the masses, in the which it is said that the priest doth offer Christ for the quick and the dead, to have remission of pain or guilt, is a blasphemous and dangerous deceit.

XXI. Of the Rites and Ceremonies of Churches

¶ 41. It is not necessary that rites and ceremonies should in all places be the same, or exactly alike; for they have been always different, and may be changed according to the diversity of countries, times and men's manners, so that nothing be ordained against God's Word. Whosoever through his private judgment, willingly and purposely doth openly break the rites and ceremonies of the church to which he belongs, which are not repugnant to the Word of God, and are ordained and approved by common authority, ought to be rebuked openly, that others may fear to do the like, as one that offendeth against the common order of the church, and woundeth the consciences of the weak brethren. Every particular church may ordain, change or abolish rites and ceremonies so that all things may be done to edification.

XXII. Of Christian Men's Goods

¶ 42. The riches and goods of Christians are not common, as touching the right, title and possession of the same, as some do falsely boast. Notwithstanding, every man ought, of such things as he possesseth, liberally to give alms to the poor according to his ability.

XXIII. Of a Christian Man's Oath

¶ 43. As we confess that vain and rash swearing is forbidden Christian men by our Lord Jesus Christ, and James the apostle; so we hold that the Christian religion doth not prohibit, but that a man may swear when the magistrate requireth in a case of faith and charity, so it be done according to the prophet's teaching, in justice, judgment, and truth.

NOTE: This article shall not deprive of membership in our church those who have conscientious scruples against taking an oath.

DIVISION II

MEMBERSHIP

A. REQUIREMENTS, RIGHTS, AND TENURE

¶ 45. The privileges and requirements of full membership in the church are constitutional, and changes therein may be made only by constitutional enactment. Nothing shall be included in the membership ritual that is contrary to the following definitions of conditions and privileges of membership.

¶ 46. The requirements of full membership are:

1. Christian baptism, confession of a personal experience in regeneration, and a pledge to seek diligently until sanctified wholly if that experience has not been attained;

2. Acceptance of the Articles of Religion, the rules of Christian living, and the authority of the DISCIPLINE in matters of church government;

3. A covenant to support the church, to live in fellowship with the members thereof, and to seek God's glory in all things;

4. Recommendation to membership by the official board of the church, the candidate's public declaration of membership vows, and the approving vote of three-fourths of the members of the receiving society who are present and voting.

¶ 47. The rights of full membership are:

1. Participation in the sacraments and ordinances of the church;

2. To vote and hold office when sixteen years of age and over.

3. Trial and appeal if charged with failure to maintain the conditions of membership, with the specific provision that joining another religious denomination or sect shall of itself sever membership in the church without trial.

¶ 48. Church membership may be terminated only by:

1. Voluntary withdrawal (including permission to withdraw under complaint).

2. Joining another religious denomination or sect or a secret order.

3. Expulsion after proper summary proceeding or trial and conviction;

4. Persistent neglect of church relationship by a member residing at a distance from pastoral and church supervision, which in effect is voluntary withdrawal.

B. GENERAL RULES

[The General Rules is a historic document originally prepared by John Wesley. The text printed here is that adopted by the organizing convention of the Free Methodist Church and published by it in 1860. The Special Rules have been adopted at various times in the intervening years.]

The Nature, Design, and General Rules of our

UNITED SOCIETIES

¶ 50. In the latter end of the year 1739, eight or ten persons came to Mr. Wesley in London, who appeared to be deeply convinced of sin, and earnestly groaning for redemption. They desired (as did two or three more the next day) that he would spend some time with them in prayer, and advise them how to flee from the wrath to come; which they saw continually hanging over their heads. That he might have more time for this great work, he appointed a day when they might all come together, which from thenceforward they did every week, namely, on Thursday, in the evening. For these, and as many more as desired to join with them (for their number increased daily), he gave those advices from time to time which he judged most needful for them; and they always concluded their meeting with prayer suited to their several necessities.

¶ 51. This was the rise of the UNITED SOCIETY, first in Europe, and then in America. Such a society is no other than "a company of men having the form and seeking the power of godliness, united in order to pray together, to receive the word of exhortation, and to watch over one another in love, that they may help each other to work out their salvation."

¶ 52. That it may the more easily be discerned whether they are indeed working out their own salvation, each society is divided into smaller companies, called classes, according to their respective places of abode. There are about twelve persons in a class, one of whom is styled the leader. It is his duty,

I. To see each person in his class once a week at least; in order

1. To inquire how their souls prosper.

2. To advise, reprove, comfort or exhort, as occasion may require.

3. To receive what they are willing to give toward the relief of the preacher, church and poor.*

II. To meet the minister and the stewards of the society once a week; in order,

1. To inform the minister of any that are sick, or of any that walk disorderly, and will not be reproved.

2. To pay the stewards what they have received of their several classes in the week preceding.

¶ 53. There is only one condition previously required of those who desire admission into these societies, "a desire to flee from the wrath to come, and to be saved from their sins." But wherever this is really fixed in the soul, it will be shown by its fruits. It is therefore expected of all who continue therein, that they should continue to evidence their desire of salvation,

First, By doing no harm, by avoiding evil of every kind, especially that which is most generally practiced; such as,
The taking of the name of God in vain.

The profaning the day of the Lord, either by doing ordinary work therein, or by buying or selling.

Drunkenness, buying or selling spirituous liquors, or drinking them, unless in cases of extreme necessity.

The buying, selling, or holding of a human being as a slave.

Fighting, quarreling, brawling, brother going to law with * This part refers to towns and cities; where the poor are generally numerous, and church expenses considerable.

brother; returning evil for evil; or railing for railing; the using many words in buying or selling.

The buying or selling goods that have not paid the duty.

The giving or taking things on usury, i. e., unlawful interest.

Uncharitable or unprofitable conversation; particularly speaking evil of magistrates or ministers.

Doing to others as we would not they should do unto us.

Doing what we know is not for the glory of God; as

The putting on of gold or costly apparel.

The taking such diversions as cannot be used in the name of the Lord Jesus.

The singing those songs, or reading those books, which do not tend to the knowledge or love of God.

Softness and needless self-indulgence.

Laying up treasure upon earth.

Borrowing without a probability of paying; or taking up goods without a probability of paying for them.

¶ 54. It is expected of all who continue in these societies, that they should continue to evidence their desire of salvation,

Secondly, By doing good, by being in every kind merciful after their power, as they have opportunity, doing good of every possible sort, and as far as possible, to all men.

To their bodies, of the ability which God giveth, by giving food to the hungry, by clothing the naked, by visiting or helping them that are sick or in prison.

To their souls, by instructing, reproving, or exhorting all we have any intercourse with; trampling under foot that enthusiastic doctrine, that "we are not to do good unless our hearts be free to do it."

By doing good, especially to them that are of the household of faith, or groaning so to be; employing them preferably to others, buying one of another, helping each other in business; and so much the more because the world will love its own, and them only.

By all possible diligence and frugality, that the gospel be not blamed.

By running with patience the race which is set before them, denying themselves and taking up their cross daily; submitting to bear the reproach of Christ, to be as the filth and offscouring of the world; and looking that men should say all manner of evil of them falsely for the Lord's sake.

¶ 55. It is expected of all who desire to continue in these societies, that they should continue to evidence their desire of salvation,

Thirdly, By attending upon all the ordinances of God: such are,

The public worship of God;

The ministry of the word, either read or expounded;

The Supper of the Lord;

Family and private prayer;

Searching the Scriptures, and Fasting or abstinence.

¶ 56. These are the general rules of our societies, all of which we are taught of God to observe, even in His written word, which is the only rule, and the sufficient rule both of our faith and practice. And all these we know His Spirit writes on truly awakened hearts. If there be any among us who observe them not, who habitually break any of them, let it be known unto them who watch over that soul, as they who must give an account. We will admonish him of the error of his ways. We will bear with him for a season. But if then he repent not, he hath no more place among us. We have delivered our own souls.

C. SPECIAL RULES

¶ 57. 1. Members shall conform to the scriptural standards of attire, adorning themselves in a meek and quiet spirit, not with gold, pearls, and costly array.

2. The church forbids its members the using, growing, processing, buying or selling of tobacco; the habitual use of opiates; and the processing, buying, selling or using of intoxicating liquors unless for mechanical, chemical, or medicinal purposes, or in any way intentionally and knowingly aiding others so to do.

3. The church condemns secret societies on scriptural grounds and as contrary to the glory of God, and forbids membership in them.

4. The church recognizes no other ground for divorce than that permitted by the Word of God (Matt. 5:32; Mark 10: 11, 12).

VI. Presiding Officers

¶ 68. The General Conference shall elect by ballot one or more traveling elders to the office of bishop; and the bishops shall preside at the sittings of the General Conference in such order as they may determine; if no bishop be present, the General Conference shall elect by ballot an elder as president pro tem. ### C. Judicial Council ¶ 73. 1. There shall be a Judicial Council. The General Conference shall determine the number and qualifications of its members, their terms of office, and the method of selection and of filling vacancies.

DIVISION IV

RESTRICTIVE RULES AND METHODS OF AMENDMENT

I. Restrictive Rules

¶ 75. The General Conference shall have power to make rules and regulations for the Free Methodist Church, under the following limitations and restrictions:

1. The General Conference shall not revoke, alter, or change our Articles of Religion, the General Rules, or any condition of membership, or establish any standards or rules of doctrine contrary to our present, existing and established standards of doctrine.

2. It shall not change or alter any part or rule of our government, so as to do away with lay representation, or an itinerant ministry, or the general superintendency, or the free-seat system in our churches.

3. It shall not have the power to deprive our preachers or members of the right of trial by an impartial committee, or of the right of an appeal.

¶ 76. The first two restrictive rules, or any items specified therein, but not the third restrictive rule, may be altered by concurrence of a two-thirds majority of the votes cast thereon in the General Conference and an aggregate two-thirds majority of all votes cast thereon in the annual conferences upon reference to them. Also the first two restrictive rules or any items specified therein may be altered by an aggregate two-thirds majority of all votes cast thereon in the annual conferences after presentation to each of the annual conferences and a two-thirds majority of the votes cast thereon in the General Conference.

II. Amendment of the Amending Process for Restrictive Rules

¶ 77. The processes for amending specified in Paragraphs 76 and 77 shall not be amended except by concurrence of a two-thirds majority of the votes cast thereon in the General Conference and an aggregate two-thirds majority of all votes cast thereon in the annual conferences after reference to them.

III. Other Amendments

¶ 78. Changes in the constitution which do not in any way involve the restrictive rules may be accomplished by a concurring majority of the votes cast thereon in the General Conference and an aggregate majority of all votes cast thereon in the annual conferences after reference to them. Also such changes may be accomplished by the concurrence of an aggregate majority of all votes cast thereon in the annual conferences after presentation to each of them and a majority of the votes cast thereon in the General Conference.

PART II
THE CHRISTIAN LIFE

CHAPTERS

- I. CHRISTIAN CONDUCT
- II. CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP
- III. CHRISTIAN WORSHIP

CHAPTER I

CHRISTIAN CONDUCT

I. Temperance

¶ 80. 1. A spirit of self-denial is indispensable to Christian character. A large proportion of the crime and pauperism of the country is caused by strong drink. The Spirit of Christ never leads one to countenance the use or sale of intoxicating liquor as a beverage.

2. The stewards on all our circuits shall make provision to use the unfermented juice of the grape in celebrating the Lord's Supper. In no case shall intoxicating wine be used for this purpose.

3. Every man of God should break away from party trammels, and never knowingly give his vote or influence to elect any man to office who will use his official or personal influence to legalize the traffic in intoxicating liquors as a beverage. As Christians we are bound to do all we can to prohibit by law this nefarious traffic.

II. Marriage and Divorce

¶ 81. 1. We do not prohibit our people from marrying persons who are not members of our church, provided such persons give evidence of being converted to God; but we are determined to discourage their marrying those who do not come up to this standard.

2. Some of our members have married with unsaved persons. This has produced bad effects. They have either been hindered for life or have turned back to perdition. To discourage such marriages: 1. Every preacher shall publicly enforce the apostle's command, "Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers" (2 Corinthians 6:14). 2. All should be exhorted never to marry without advising with some of the more serious of their brethren.

3. In general a woman ought not to marry without the consent of her parents. Yet there may be exceptions. For if, (1) A woman believes it to be her duty to marry, and if, (2) Her parents absolutely refuse to let her marry any Christian, then she may, nay, ought to marry without their consent.

4. We recognize no other ground for divorce than that permitted in the word of God (Matt. 5:32; Mark 10:11, 12). Any person guilty of a violation of this law shall have no place among us.

5. Our preachers shall not officiate at the marriage of any person who is under eighteen years of age, unless the parents or guardians be present or have given written consent, and unless at least two witnesses, knowing the contracting persons, be present. They shall refuse to officiate at the marriage of divorced persons, unless furnished with satisfactory evidence that they are not violating the law of divorce recognized in the preceding paragraph.

III. Dress

¶ 82. We insist on the rules concerning dress. This is no time to give encouragement to superfluity of apparel. Therefore, receive none into the church till they have left off superfluous ornaments. In order to this: 1. In visiting the classes be very mild but very strict. 2. Allow no exempt case; better one suffer than many.

IV. Secret Societies

¶ 83. 1. Voluntary associations are not necessarily sinful because they are secret. But secrecy is always a ground of suspicion. Evil works instinctively incline to darkness. Good works grow up in light. God commands us to let our light shine. Even a good cause under the shadow of secrecy invalidates its claim to the confidence of open and honest men. Grace and guile can have no affinity. All secrets necessary to be kept can be kept without an oath. A bad institution should not, and a good one need not, be secret. Philanthropic associations claiming our co-operation on Christian grounds must do so with open face. They must lift the veil while demanding our salutation, or we cannot salute them by the way. Therefore, all secret societies are to be eschewed.

2. Any society requiring an oath, affirmation, or promise of secrecy, as a condition of membership, is held to be a secret society; and any member joining or continuing in one violates his covenant obligations as set forth in Pars. 57, Sec. 3, and 87, Sec. 5, and shall in due form be excluded from the church; and the preacher shall report that he is excluded for infraction of our rules and regulations.

3. Nothing herein shall prevent one's paying dues in a secret society to keep in force insurance contracted for before becoming a member of the church.

V. Labor and Industrial Relations

¶ 84. 1. We would not oppose the open and honest organization of the laboring classes seeking in a proper way their betterment without injuring others or violating the inherent rights of any. But we are opposed to pledged or oath-bound secrecy, coercion, lawlessness, or any other evil in their organization; and we prohibit our members from joining labor unions or other societies demanding an oath-bound pledge of secrecy as a condition of membership. Yet, otherwise, we recognize their inherent right to hold membership in labor organizations. And wherever they cannot on account of required oath-bound pledges of secrecy be members of the labor union, if merely upon the payment of regular dues they are allowed to work free from the use of coercion, we grant them the privilege of doing so.

2. The Executive Commission of the Board of Administration shall constitute a Board of Industrial Relations the duty of which is to furnish information and render decisions upon all matters of industrial relations. To this Board should be committed all questions, communications, and papers relating to labor unions or membership in them. This Board shall, wherever practicable, constitute a collective bargaining agency on behalf of the members of our church.

VI. Militarism and War

¶ 85. 1. Militarism is contrary to the spirit of the New Testament and the teachings of Jesus Christ. Even from humanitarian principles alone it is utterly indefensible. It is our profound conviction that none of our people should be required to enter military training or to bear arms except in time of national peril, and that the consciences of our individual members should be respected. Therefore we claim exemption from the bearing of arms for all members of our church who are conscientious objectors.

2. The secretary of each annual conference shall keep a proper register containing names, addresses, and dates of declaration of all members of the church within his conference who declare themselves to be conscientious objectors; and he shall make a prompt report of these declarations to the secretary of the General Conference, who shall keep a complete record of them. (See Par. 105.)

CHAPTER II

CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

I. Reception into Preparatory Membership

¶ 86. None shall be admitted to preparatory membership until they give evidence of a desire to flee from the wrath to come, by bringing forth fruits meet for repentance, and give affirmative answers to the following questions: 1. Have you the assurance of sins forgiven? 2. Do you consent to be governed by our general rules?

II. Admission into Full Membership

¶ 87. None shall be received into full membership unless they give evidence of a renewed heart by living up to the requirements of the general rules; have met in class six months in preparatory membership and received three months' instruction for full membership; have been baptized, and, if baptized in infancy, have publicly assented to the baptismal covenant; have, wherever practicable, been recommended by the official members of the society; and give satisfactory answers to the following questions, which shall be proposed to them before the society or public meeting of the church:

1. Have you the witness of the Spirit that you are a child of God?

2. Have you now the experience of entire sanctification?

(If the candidate shall answer no, then this question shall be asked, Will you diligently seek until you obtain it?)

3. Is it your purpose to devote yourself the remainder of your life wholly to the service of God, doing good to your fellow men, and working out your own salvation with fear and trembling?

4. Will you forever lay aside all superfluous ornaments, and adorn yourself in modest apparel, not with gold, nor pearls, nor costly array, but which becometh those professing godliness, with good works?

5. Will you abstain from connection with all secret societies, keeping yourself free to follow the will of the Lord in all things?

6. Do you subscribe to our articles of religion, our general rules, and our DISCIPLINE, and are you willing to be governed by the same?

7. Have you Christian fellowship and love for the members of this society, and will you assist them, as God shall give you ability, in carrying on the work of the Lord?

¶ 88. 1. The person giving affirmative answers to the questions above shall, with the consent of three fourths of the members present, be admitted to all the privileges of membership. Any person in good standing in any evangelical church may be received into full membership upon his meeting the other requirements of this chapter, without his having been a preparatory member of our church.

2. All members in full connection under sixteen years of age shall be known as Junior members. They shall be exempt from all claims and apportionments made by the General Conference. Their number shall be kept in a separate column in the statistical report, and no society shall be apportioned claims for them. They are not eligible to vote in business meetings.

3. A society is the final authority upon who are its members.

¶ 89. A society already organized, or several persons designing to unite with the Free Methodist Church and form a new society, should adopt the DISCIPLINE as a whole, and then admit each person in his individual capacity upon his answering the questions in Par. 87 and by the consent of three fourths of the persons forming the society. This is the only circumstance under which members may be received in full relation without letters of transfer or preparatory membership.

¶ 90. 1. Any member who withdraws from the church with no complaints pending against him at the time, may, by a recommendation of the official board and a three-fourths vote of the society from which he withdrew, be reinstated in full membership without being required to serve as a preparatory member, provided that he make request to the pastor of the society within one year of the date of withdrawal. However, any evangelist's or local preacher's license he may have held would be invalid until renewed by the quarterly conference.

2. If a member lives at a great distance from the class to which he belongs and is unable to attend, he shall, once a quarter, send to the leader or preacher testimony of his religious state. If he fails to do this or to contribute to the financial obligations of his society, he may at the end of one year, by order of the official board, be recorded on the register as "Removed without a letter." If he afterward claims membership, the official board may restore it.

III. Transfer of Membership by Certificate

¶ 91. 1. Only a member desiring to move to another circuit or to unite with another evangelical church is entitled to a certificate of standing, and, if he is in good standing, he shall receive it upon request.

2. A member in full relation wishing to transfer to another society must have from his pastor a certificate reading

"A. B., the bearer, wishing to remove from this society, we hereby certify that ..... is an acceptable member of the Free Methodist Church in ..... and cordially commend ..... to the Free Methodist Church in ....., or in any other place. When admitted to another society ..... membership in this society shall cease. This certificate is good for one year only, unless renewed." Without this certificate, no one is to be received into the church in another place.

When a pastor gives such a certificate of membership, he shall at once give notice of the fact to the pastor of the society to which the certificate is addressed. If the member so transferring be an exhorter, an evangelist, a local preacher, a local ordained deacon, or a local elder, it shall be so stated on the certificate.

A member holding a certificate shall remain a member of and be amenable to the society from which the certificate was taken, until he presents it to another society, which shall receive him into membership. After that he shall be responsible to his new society for his conduct including that during the time he held the certificate.

It shall be the duty of the preacher receiving the certificate to notify the preacher who gave it in these words: "You are hereby notified that A. B. has been duly enrolled as a member of this society upon a certificate issued by the society of which you are the pastor. Signed ....."

3. A certificate given to a member of our church who wishes to unite with another evangelical denomination shall read as follows: "A. B., the bearer, wishing to become a member of another evangelical church, we hereby certify that ..... has been an acceptable member of the Free Methodist Church, and cordially commend ..... to the fellowship of any such church with which ..... may desire to unite. H..... membership in the Free Methodist Church ceases when this certificate is given."

4. A preparatory member may be transferred to another society by the preacher giving a certificate of transfer in the following words:

"A. B., the bearer, a preparatory member, having been received on the ..... day of ..... in the year ....., and wishing to remove from this society, we hereby certify that ..... is an acceptable preparatory member of the Free Methodist Church in .....and cordially commend ..... to the Free Methodist Church in ..... or in any other place. When admitted to another society ..... membership in this society shall cease. This certificate is good for one year only."

5. No supply in charge of a circuit shall issue a certificate of transfer of his own membership without the consent of his district superintendent.

CHAPTER III

CHRISTIAN WORSHIP

I. Order of Public Worship

¶ 92. For the establishment of uniformity in public worship among us on the Lord's day: 1. The morning and afternoon service shall consist of singing, prayer, reading of the Scriptures and preaching. 2. The evening service shall consist of singing, prayer and preaching. 3. On the days of administering the Lord's Supper, the reading of the Scriptures in the morning service may be omitted. 4. In administering the ordinances and in the burial of the dead, we recommend that the form of the DISCIPLINE be used. We advise that the Lord's prayer also be used on occasions of public worship in concluding the first prayer, and the apostolic benediction in dismissing the congregation; also that the official members of each society appoint some qualified person or persons, Christians whose character, deportment, and appearance conform to our DISCIPLINE, to lead the singing at the public services and, where instrumental music is in use, to play the piano or organ. 5. The preachers should join as one man and enlarge on the impropriety of irreverent and secular conversation before and after service, and strongly exhort those who are concerned to do it no more. If the people assemble before the hour of service, or remain after it, let the time be improved in singing, prayer and testimony.

II. Music

¶ 93. We should guard against formality in singing. Therefore,

1. Choose such hymns as are proper for the occasion, and do not sing too much at once—seldom more than four or five stanzas.

2. Have the tune suited to the sentiment, and do not suffer the people to sing too slow.

3. In every society it shall be the duty of the preacher in charge to see that due attention be given to the cultivation of vocal and sacred music.

4. If he, himself, can not sing, let one or two be chosen in each society to lead the singing.

5. As singing is a part of divine worship, in which all ought to unite, therefore exhort every person in the congregation to sing.

6. Let the preacher in charge see that the Free Methodist Hymnal is used in the Sunday morning services. If found impracticable, however, this rule may be waived where shaped notes are in use.

7. When a two-thirds majority of the local society present and voting has so voted by ballot, a musical instrument may be used in our public worship, subject to the following conditions and restrictions. Let there be no choir singing or more than one musical instrument used in public worship. It is expressly understood that this one instrument shall be either a piano or an organ.

A society which has adopted the use of instrumental music may discontinue its use when a two-thirds majority of the members of the society present and voting by ballot has so voted.

The question of the use or discontinuance of instrumental music may be voted upon but once during a conference year, and then only at a society meeting duly called for that purpose and announced at least ten days in advance.

8. A musical instrument may be used in general gatherings when a majority of the members of the governing body present and voting by ballot has so voted, provided that the question is not voted upon more than once in a conference year and that the players of the instrument meet the standard set in Paragraph 92, Section 4.

III. Love Feasts

¶ 94. A love feast shall be held on each circuit at least once in three months.

IV. Classes and Class Meetings

¶ 95. The chapter on general rules says of those who compose our societies: That it may be the more easily discerned whether they are indeed working out their own salvation, each society is divided into smaller companies, called classes, according to their places of abode. There are about twelve persons in a class, one of whom is styled the leader. It is his duty,

1. To see each person in his class once a week at least; in order, (1) To inquire how their souls prosper. (2) To advise, reprove, comfort, or exhort, as occasion may require.

2. To meet the minister of the circuit in order to inform him of any that are sick, or of any that walk disorderly, and will not be reproved.

¶ 96. 1. The class meeting shall be separate and distinct from the usual testimony meeting, and shall be held whenever practicable on the Sabbath day.

2. Where there is more than one class in a society there shall be a general class once a month.

¶ 97. When any member of our church willfully and repeatedly neglects to meet his class, the preacher in charge, his assistant, or the leader should visit him, whenever it is practicable, and explain to him the consequences if he continues to neglect, namely, censure, suspension, and, finally, expulsion. If he does not amend he should be brought to trial for neglect of duty.

CHAPTER I

THE GENERAL CONFERENCE

"It is desired that all things be considered as in the immediate presence of God; that every person speak freely whatever is in his heart. While we are conversing, let us have an especial care to set God always before us. In the intermediate hours, let us redeem all the time we can for private exercises. Therein let us give ourselves to prayer for one another, and for a blessing on our labor." John Wesley, Large Minutes.

¶ 100. The General Conference shall be composed of the bishops and an equal number of ministerial and lay delegates to be elected by the annual conferences, at their last sessions prior to the session of the General Conference, except that conferences held within three months of the General Conference may elect their delegates the year before. For further directions see Pars. 63-66.

¶ 101. Mission conferences may send delegates to the General Conference as provided in Par. 203, Sec. 2, Par. 210, Sec. 12, Par. 228, and Par. 237, Sec. 1.

¶ 102. The next quadrennial session of the General Conference shall be held in June, 1955, or as near that time as may be determined by the Board of Administration, in accordance with the Constitution, Par. 67, which prescribes also the procedure for calling extra sessions.

¶ 103. The officers to preside at the sittings of the General Conference; the number of members required for a quorum, and the method of voting are defined in the Constitution, Pars. 68 and 71-72.

¶ 104. 1. Each General Conference shall elect by ballot one or more traveling elders as bishops, a secretary, an editor of the Free Methodist, an editor of Sunday-school literature, a missionary secretary, a general Sunday-school secretary, a superintendent of the Young People's Missionary Society, and a general evangelistic secretary. It may elect one or more general evangelists and one or more missionary bishops. The duties and official relations of missionary bishops shall be confined to the fields to which they are elected.

2. The General Conference shall elect one traveling elder and one layman from each of the General Conference administrative districts, who, with the bishops and the secretary of the General Conference, shall constitute the Board of Administration. The elective members of the Board, a majority of whom must be members of the General Conference electing them, shall first have been nominated by the delegates from their General Conference administrative districts. In making the nominations the delegates of a district shall vote for the minister and the layman upon the same ballot.

¶ 105. The General Conference may, if it so desires, elect as its secretary one who is not a member of that body. The secretary shall continue in office until his successor is elected and shall be custodian of the General Conference records and journals. He shall also keep a record of conscientious objectors reported to him by the annual conference secretaries as ordered in Par. 85, Sec. 2.

¶ 106. The General Conference is the only legislative body in the church. It alone has the power to authorize a denominational referendum or survey of opinion. It shall have full power to make rules and regulations for our church, under the limitations and restrictions described in Paragraphs 75-78.

¶ 107. It shall be the duty of every preacher in charge of a circuit to raise annually the sum apportioned by the Board of Administration, as provided in the general service plan. Should any conference be deficient in its assessment during the quadrennium, the deficiency shall be deducted from the expenses payable to its delegates to the General Conference.

¶ 108. It is the inalienable right of any annual conference, district quarterly conference, society, or individual member of the Free Methodist Church, to submit protests, petitions, or memorials to the General Conference and to have them fully heard. Such papers must be introduced by a member of the General Conference and be subject to the rules of that body.

¶ 109. The annual conferences shall be grouped in twelve General Conference administrative districts as follows: No. 1—Genesee, East Ontario. No. 2—Oil City, West Ontario. No. 3—Susquehanna, Ohio, Maryland-Virginia. No. 4—Pittsburgh, New York. No. 5—Michigan, North Michigan. No. 6—North Indiana, East Michigan. No. 7—Wabash, Illinois. No. 8—Kentucky and Tennessee, Oklahoma, Missouri, Ozark, Texas, Louisiana, Georgia and Carolina, and Florida. No. 9—Colorado, Kansas, West Kansas, Dakota, West Iowa, Nebraska. No. 10—North Minnesota, Minnesota and Northern Iowa, Iowa, Central Illinois, Wisconsin. No. 11—Oregon, California, Southern California. No. 12—Saskatchewan, Alberta, Columbia River, Washington.

BOARD OF ADMINISTRATION

¶ 110. 1. The Board of Administration shall consist of the bishops, the secretary of the General Conference, twelve traveling elders and twelve lay members elected in the manner prescribed in Paragraph 104, Sec. 2. Termination of membership in the Free Methodist Church shall automatically terminate membership on the Board of Administration. No General Conference officer other than the bishops and the secretary shall be a member of the Board of Administration. The senior bishop shall be president, and the secretary of the General Conference secretary of the Board; but should there be no bishop to serve, then the Board of Administration shall elect an elder from its members to preside.

2. The Board shall provide rules and regulations for the conduct of its business.

¶ 111. 1. The Board of Administration shall have general organizational, promotional, and supervisory powers over all the activities of the church during the intervals of the General Conference. It shall meet annually and whenever else the bishops or one third of the members shall deem it necessary. A majority of the members elected shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

2. The Board of Administration shall have power to accept resignations, to remove for cause any of its members or any of the General Conference officers during the interim of the General Conference, and to fill vacancies occurring either in its own body or in any of the General Conference elective offices, subject to the provisions of the DISCIPLINE. The Board of Administration shall fill any vacancy which may occur in the Board of Bishops during the first two years of the quadrennium.

3. The Board of Administration shall meet immediately at the close of the General Conference and organize itself into four commissions to be called the Executive Commission, the Commission on Missions, the Commission on Christian Education, and the Commission on Evangelism and Church Extension. Members elected from the same administrative district shall not serve on the same commission. Each of the commissions shall consist of one bishop and six other members, except that the Commission on Missions shall have three additional members, two of whom shall be women elected by the Woman's Missionary Society and one shall be a member of the Y.P.M.S. elected by that body.

4. The Board of Administration shall elect a finance committee of five business men, who shall have charge of the investment of the church funds, including the funds to be invested by the several commissions. No treasurer of these church funds shall be a member of this committee. No member of the committee shall be eligible to borrow directly or indirectly or to participate in the benefits of any money borrowed from the funds of the church. The finance committee shall not invest the trust funds of the church in any investments except such as are lawful for the investment of trust funds in the state in which the Free Methodist Church may be incorporated.

5. The Board of Administration shall employ a general church treasurer; a director of finance, who shall be the general director of tithing and who shall supervise the work of the annual conference secretaries of tithing in harmony with Paragraph 244, Sec. 5; a publishing agent, who shall be a member of the Free Methodist Church; and, when they deem it necessary, an assistant publishing agent and such other officers or employees as the General Conference orders.

6. The Board of Administration shall appoint an editorial board with representatives from each commission. This editorial board shall coordinate and unify the publications issued by the church and determine the character of each.

¶ 112. The secretaries of the departments of the church shall meet with the commissions to which their work is assigned.

¶ 113. All of the commissions and the Woman's Missionary Society shall make and file annually their financial statements with the secretary of the Board of Administration.

¶ 114. It shall be the duty of the secretary of the Board of Administration to make a full report of its proceedings during the quadrennium to the General Conference.

CHAPTER III

THE EXECUTIVE COMMISSION

I. Its Powers

¶ 120. 1. The Executive Commission shall be the Executive Committee of the Board of Administration.

2. This commission shall make all apportionments and administer funds for the bishops' salaries and for the Church and Parsonage Aid Society.

3. It shall be the Board of Directors of the Free Methodist Publishing House and shall have advisory supervision of all church property.

4. The Executive Commission shall constitute the Court of Appeals, whose decision shall be final. Should any member of this court be absent or disqualified to sit, his place shall be filled pro tem by the Board of Administration from its members, or, if they are disqualified, from a list of members of the church at large approved by counsel for both sides; so that no appeal shall be heard except before a full court. The Court of Appeals shall, if necessary, hold a session once a year, for the purpose of trying all appeals that may be taken thereto by any traveling preacher from the decisions of an annual conference. The bishop who is a member of the Executive Commission shall ordinarily preside over the court; but should he be absent or disqualified, the Board of Administration shall elect one of the other bishops to preside.

5. The Executive Commission shall have the power to decide all questions of law referred to it in the interim of the General Conference, except the decisions of bishops in annual conferences and those questions of constitutional law within the jurisdiction of the Judicial Council. In case of any alleged legal irregularities in a trial court, wherein the court has delivered a verdict against the church, the prosecution may, upon a written recital of the irregularities, apply to the Executive Commission or to the General Conference for a writ of review, and it shall be the province of that body receiving the application to review the proceedings of the lower court as recited, and if the reviewing body finds the alleged irregularities to exist, the case may be remanded, but only once, for a new trial.

6. The Executive Commission shall have power to make such preliminary arrangements for the public services of the General Conference as it may deem necessary.

7. The Executive Commission shall fix the salaries of the General Conference officers.

8. The Executive Commission shall constitute the Board of Benevolences of the church.

¶ 121. Deficiencies of any conference in the payment of its claims assessed in the general service fund, above the amount deducted in accordance with Paragraph 107, shall be prorated to the various general funds according to the ratio of the amounts of the apportionments. These deficiencies shall be deducted from benefits receivable by that conference as the Board of Administration may determine.

Such deficiencies as are not deducted or paid shall be held as a lien against subsequent appropriations. The general treasurer shall keep a record of these deficiencies and report them to the conferences which are deficient and publish them in his annual report to the Board of Administration.

¶ 122. The acts of the Executive Commission shall be subject to the approval of the Board of Administration except when it sits as an appellate court.

II. Plan for Conference Claimants

¶ 123. The Conference Claimants' Fund

The funds to be collected, administered and used for the benefit of superannuated preachers or their widows and orphans, the widows and orphans of ordained traveling preachers, and retired missionaries who have labored under the appointment of the Commission on Missions of the Free Methodist Church, shall be known as the Conference Claimants' Fund and shall be divided into the Permanent Endowment Fund and the Administrative Fund.

1. The Permanent Endowment Fund shall consist of funds and investments now held and known as the Permanent Endowment Fund, and gifts, bequests, legacies and annuities which may be received for this fund.

2. The Administrative Fund shall consist of the income accruing from the Permanent Endowment Fund: gifts, bequests and legacies specifically designated for the use of the Administrative Fund; collections received from the several conferences for generally assessed claims levied by the Board of Administration for the Conference Claimants' Fund; sixty per cent annually of the net profits of the business of the Publishing House; income from the investment of Publishing House funds; and contributions received from preachers and missionaries who may become beneficiaries of the Conference Claimants' Fund, according to the provisions of Par. 124.

¶ 124. The Contributive Plan

It shall be the duty of every pastor, evangelist, district superintendent, general officer, bishop, educator, missionary, and in fact every one who will be eligible for superannuation, to file, at the time of his annual conference, a certificate with the executive secretary of the Annual Conference Board of Claimants, hereinafter called Certificate of Income, stating the amount of his total income for that conference year, namely: all funds received for ministerial support, such as salary, special offerings, receipts for evangelistic services and any other income accruing from conference appointment. He shall also give such other information on this certificate as shall be requested by the General Board of Conference Claimants. Those under appointment as evangelists shall give such information relative to time, place of labors, income and expense as the General Board of Conference Claimants may request. Evangelists and district superintendents may deduct actual traveling expenses in excess of $150, subject to regulations adopted by the General Board of Conference Claimants.

Gifts and contributions which a minister receives because he is a minister or which are in any way related to church beneficence should be reported as income and assessed under the contributive plan.

Contributions to the Conference Claimants' Fund shall be 2 per cent of the amount of income as shown in the Certificate of Income.

Contributions shall be paid in at the time of filing the Certificate of Income and receipt therefor shall be issued by the executive secretary of the Annual Conference Board of Claimants.

Should a preacher fail to make contribution at the time of filing his certificate and then subsequently desire to do so, interest at the rate of 4 per cent per annum shall be charged from the time the payment was due, provided the contribution is paid not later than the next ensuing session of his annual conference.

¶ 125. Administrative Organization

1. The General Board of Conference Claimants. The Board of Administration shall constitute the General Board of Conference Claimants. It shall be the duty of this board:

(1) To pass upon all claims and make final disposition of them.

(2) To draw up such regulations and prepare such blanks as are necessary to the proper and efficient administration of the work of the board and the operation of the Conference Claimants' Fund.

(3) To estimate the amount necessary to be raised in addition to endowment and other income, to pay the claimants and apportion the amount pro rata upon the entire membership of the church. To the apportionment shall be added an amount of not less than ten cents per member to aid in building up the Endowment Fund.

2. The General Executive Secretary. The executive secretary of the General Board shall be employed by the Board of Administration. It shall be his duty:

(1) To keep a record of all the proceedings of the General

Board and make a report of them to the General Conference.

(2) To receive, audit, classify, file, and be custodian of the Claimants' Applications, the Certificates of Income, and the list of certified claimants.

(3) In the interim of the meetings of the General Board to receive and pass upon emergency claims, subject to action by the board.

(4) To adjust amounts due on claims of deceased claimants.

(5) To keep a record of all claims allowed and payments made on them.

(6) To direct the activities of the annual conference executive secretaries, and supply them with such forms and other record materials as are necessary.

(7) To receive and credit to the individual preachers' accounts the contributions forwarded to him and, having made a complete record of them, forward them to the general church treasurer.

(8) To travel through the church and assist in promoting the Conference Claimants' Fund under the direction of the General Board of Conference Claimants.

(9) To perform such other duties as shall devolve upon him as executive secretary.

3. The Annual Conference Board of Claimants. Each annual conference shall elect an Annual Conference Board of Claimants of not less than three or more than seven members. The presiding bishop or his appointee shall be ex officio chairman of this board during the session of the annual conference. It shall be the duty of this Annual Conference Board of Claimants:

(1) To elect from its number an executive secretary who shall be the executive officer of the board in the interim of the annual conferences. The annual conference, however, may elect the executive secretary if it so desires.

(2) To study all claims and recommend to the annual conference the amount of each claim. In no case, however, shall income from insurance or life savings be considered a reason for reducing any claim in which contributive service constitutes all or part of the service record.

(3) To study all Certificates of Income, rate them on the basis of activity or service unhampered by secular employment, and report the ratings to the annual conference, which shall have final jurisdiction.

(4) To receive emergency claims in the interim of annual conferences and recommend them directly to the General Board of Conference Claimants. These emergency claims shall be only temporary and must be submitted to the next session of the annual conference for recommendation to the General Board.

(5) It shall be the duty of the executive secretary of the annual conference board to assist the general executive secretary in promoting the interests of the Claimants' Plan in his conference. He shall see that the Certificates of Income are properly filled out and submitted by the preachers of his conference, issue receipts for contributions paid on them, and remit such funds to the general executive secretary as soon as possible. He shall also receive all Claimants' Applications; see that they are properly filled out with all necessary information; and transmit them, together with the Certificates of Income, to the general executive secretary after they have been properly acted upon. He shall also certify annually all the claimants in the conference to the General Executive Secretary.

¶ 126. Classification of Claimants

Claimants against the Conference Claimants' Fund shall be classified as follows:

1. Superannuated preachers of the traveling connection whose wives are living.

2. Superannuated preachers of the traveling connection who are bachelors, spinsters, unmarried widowers or unmarried widows.

3. Unmarried widows of superannuates or preachers of the traveling connection.

4. Orphans of preachers or superannuates of the traveling connection.

5. Missionaries, or their widows and orphans, who have served under the appointment of the Commission on Missions in foreign fields and who are not full members of an annual conference in the United States or Canada.

¶ 127. Schedule of Benefits to Claimants

Benefits to claimants shall be paid according to the following schedule, and no claim shall be allowed in excess of or contrary to the regular disciplinary allowance. For those who began effective service at the time of their annual conferences in 1935 or subsequently, the allowance shall be based upon the number of years of effective and contributive service only.

1. The allowance to claimants who come under Classification 1 in Par. 126 shall be at the rate of $10 per year of effective and contributive service up to a maximum of 36 years, making a full claim of $360 per year.

2. The allowance to claimants who come under Classifications 2 and 3 shall be at the rate of $7 per year of effective and contributive service up to a maximum of 36 years, making a full claim of $252 per year.

3. For those coming under Classification 4 the Annual Conference Board of Claimants shall estimate an amount, not to exceed $36 per annum, for each child under the age of sixteen years.

4. For those coming under Classification 5, the amount allowed shall be recommended by the Commission on Missions in accordance with the schedules in this Section.

5. For those who already had effective service records at the time of their annual conferences in 1935 and who superannuate thereafter, the allowance shall be based upon the number of years of effective service prior to the end of the conference year in 1935, provided that not more than 25 such years may be counted for those in Class 1 in Par. 126, nor more than 28 years for those in Classes 2 and 3, and upon the number of years of effective and contributive service thereafter, up to the maximum number of years allowed altogether as stated in schedules 1 and 2.

6. The allowance for those who come under Classification 3, and who were married before the General Conference of 1931, shall be computed upon the basis of the husband's effective and/or contributive service as provided in the schedule in this section.

7. For those who were eligible as claimants under any classification in Par. 126 at the close of the conference year in 1935, the allowance shall be figured at $10 per year of effective service for Classification 1 and $7 per year for Classifications 2 and 3; provided, however, that the amount of the claim shall not be less than the amount received during the conference year 1934-35 nor more than the maximum allowance under the law in effect prior to the General Conference of 1935; and provided further, that no Class 2 or 3 claimant shall be eligible to receive more than $200.

¶ 128. General Regulations

1. By "effective service" is meant the time actually employed by a preacher as directed by his conference subsequent to the time he was received into the full traveling connection. By "effective and contributive service" is meant the time actually employed in "effective service" during which he contributes his ratable portion of the amount shown on his Certificate of Income.

(1) A member of a conference attending school can be rated 100% effective only when appointed to a circuit by disciplinary provision and devoting not less than two days per week regularly to the appointment while school is in session and full time otherwise.

(2) If a preacher shall take a certificate of location and subsequently be restored to conference membership, the years of effective, or effective and contributive service, prior to location may be restored by the General Board only upon the following conditions: that not more than ten years have elapsed since his location, that he has remained a member of the Free Methodist Church during the time of location, that the conference which granted the certificate of location recommends the restoration, and that the restoration is to enable him to return to effective service,

(3) If a preacher withdraws from the church or is expelled, all rights and claims are forfeited; and should he be readmitted to the church and conference, and afterward be superannuated, the years prior to his withdrawal or expulsion shall not be restored to his service record.

(4) If a preacher who has had effective service under the Commission on Missions joins an annual conference in full connection after serving on probation, his years of service on probation may be counted in his service record upon the recommendation of his annual conference, provided he has fulfilled the other requirements for effective and contributive service.

(5) If, subsequently to the General Conference of 1931, a minister marries while a member of an annual conference and before he is superannuated, the claim allowed his widow shall be based only upon the years she labored with him in effective and contributive service.

2. (1) Claimants shall receive benefits only so long as they remain members of the Free Methodist Church.

(2) No minister shall be eligible as a claimant until he has reached the age of sixty-five years except when, in the opinion of the General Board of Conference Claimants, mental or physical disability disqualifies him for service.

(3) Widows of preachers and superannuates shall receive benefits from the Conference Claimants' Fund only so long as they remain single.

3. (1) Each claimant must file with the Executive Secretary of the annual conference Board of Claimants, in time for action at the annual conference, an original Claimant's Application in duplicate on forms provided by the General Board of Conference Claimants, containing such information as the board deems necessary.

(2) Each claimant shall have the right to appear in person or by counsel before the Annual Conference Board of Claimants to present his case, and to appeal an irreconcilable difference between himself and his Annual Conference Board to the General Board of Conference Claimants, where final disposition shall be made.

4. All claims shall be paid from the general treasury in equal quarterly payments beginning January 2 of each year. The general treasurer is authorized to withhold payments for the third and fourth quarters to claimants of any conference which is in arrears in the payment of its generally assessed claims. Any amounts so withheld shall not be in excess of deficiencies as provided in Par. 121.

5. The Board of Administration is empowered to amend such regulations as may be found necessary.

III. Church and Parsonage Aid

¶ 129. 1. The Board of Administration shall constitute the General Church and Parsonage Aid Society of the Free Methodist Church of North America.

2. The object of this society shall be to aid in rebuilding partially or totally destroyed church buildings and parsonages (including barns and garages) belonging to societies and districts, and residences of superannuated preachers owned by the annual conferences.

3. This society shall publish in the Conference Minutes an annual report of its work and also submit a full report quadrennially to the General Conference.

4. The Annual Conference Church Extension Society shall constitute the Conference Church and Parsonage Aid Society.

5. The Conference Church and Parsonage Aid Society shall be auxiliary to the general society and shall pass upon all applications for aid arising from the loss of, or damage to, churches or parsonages within the conference.

6. The conference society shall make a full report of its work to the conference at its annual session.

7. In case of loss to a church or parsonage, it shall be the duty of the official board to appoint three persons who, with the district superintendent and the pastor of the society, shall constitute a board of appraisers. This board shall send the estimate of loss to the conference Church and Parsonage Aid Society.

8. The amount of aid given any society shall not be more than one half of the net loss, and in no case shall exceed $1,500. However, in case both church and parsonage are destroyed wholly or in part at one time, and in case the two are in separate buildings, the allowance shall be paid for each building.

9. The Church and Parsonage Aid Fund shall protect the household goods of all ministers under appointment by, and in the active service of, the Free Methodist Church, and of all superannuated preachers, to the extent of one half of their net loss, but in no case to exceed $350.

10. All applications for aid shall be in accordance with forms furnished by the Executive Commission.

11. The adjustment of the claim shall be upon the concurrent action of the Executive Commission and the annual conference society.

12. It shall be the duty of each preacher in charge of a circuit to raise annually for church and parsonage aid the sum provided in the general service fund for each member in full relation and forward it through the conference treasurer to the treasurer of the general society.

13. Should a conference be deficient in the payment of its assessment for this fund, the deficiency shall constitute a lien against any claim made upon the fund by a beneficiary in the conference and shall be deducted from the claim at the time payment is made by the general treasurer.

When it is impossible to deduct the lien in any one year, it shall be held over for future deduction unless the deficiency is paid by the conference.

14. In an emergency, the Executive Commission shall have power to make a special call for funds to meet the special need.

¶ 130. Any Free Methodist society, publishing house, minister, or recognized school or benevolent institution, desiring additional aid from this fund, other than that allowed under the preceding sections, may receive it on the following conditions:

1. The applicant shall contribute to the Church and Parsonage Aid Fund, for each one hundred dollars of special aid desired, an amount equal to 60% of the regular rates established for old line companies by the insurance board in the state and community in which the property is located.

2. Each building shall be aided under separate application to be made by the person, society, or institution desiring the aid.

3. This special aid, in no case to be more than $8,000, shall be limited to

(1) The actual loss, not exceeding the amount of aid applied for.

(2) The net loss after allowances for insurance or protection (if any) have been paid from other sources.

4. A society which takes advantage of this "special provision," shall in addition have the benefits provided for under Paragraph 129.

5. In case of loss, the Church and Parsonage Aid Society shall have the option either to replace what is destroyed or pay in cash the aid to which the applicant is entitled.

6. No credit shall be extended to any church or institution under the provisions of this chapter. The aid hereby provided for shall automatically cease with the expiration date, unless the contributions herein provided for have been paid promptly upon the due date.

7. No application made under the provisions of this chapter shall become effective until approved by the Executive Commission.

8. The Executive Commission shall provide application blanks and agreements for special aid, and shall have power to do anything necessary to put into effect the special provisions of this chapter.

9. When a loss has been sustained by an applicant, then the Church and Parsonage Aid Society may send a special representative or employ an adjuster to adjust the claim, and the decision of the Church and Parsonage Aid Society shall be final.

10. It shall be expressly agreed and understood between the Church and Parsonage Aid Society and any applicant for special aid under the provisions of this chapter, that the agreement for special aid shall in no sense constitute a contract of insurance or indemnity, the laws of any state notwithstanding.

¶131. Canadian Conferences. Any Canadian conference may, by voting to do so and by making the contributions provided for in Paragraphs 129 and 130, receive all the benefits allowed the societies and conferences in the United States. All contributions and benefits shall be paid in Canadian currency.

IV. Department of Benevolences

¶132. 1. It shall be the duty of the commission to inspect the charitable institutions operating in and receiving support from the Free Methodist Church.

2. The commission shall determine the financial standing of these institutions, their plan of operation, and the character and amount of work done, and shall determine whether or not they qualify for accreditation by the Free Methodist Church.

3. The commission shall have power to regulate the establishment of new charitable institutions so as to avoid the jeopardizing of those already operating as accredited institutions.

4. The commission shall receive and examine the annual reports of these accredited institutions upon their financial status, their work, and the general plan and scope of their activities.

5. The accredited institutions of the Free Methodist Church are:

The Gerry Homes, Gerry, New York. Founded in 1880.

Woodstock Home for Children, Woodstock, Illinois. Founded in 1888.

Sustain a veto power in relation to the inauguration of new institutions, the change of location or classification of an established institution, the erection of buildings, and financial campaigns for them, provided, however, that before such power is used a full and complete hearing will be given to the school requesting approval and to any schools or persons making objection.

1. No educational institution shall be approved by the commission unless it is established and operated in accordance with the conditions mentioned above, and unless two thirds of the members of the board of trustees and of the members of the faculty are members of the Free Methodist Church. No school shall hereafter be established which does not contain in its articles of incorporation the following clause: "This corporation shall be subject to the rules, regulations, and DISCIPLINE of the Free Methodist Church of North America as from time to time adopted by the General Conference in so far as the same does not contravene the laws of the state of incorporation. And further, in the event of dissolution of this corporation, the property of the same, after having discharged all obligations, shall become the property of the Free Methodist Church of North America."

2. All organizations and activities shall be in harmony with the general rules, standards, and doctrines of the Free Methodist Church, relating to amusements, campus fraternities, hazing, immodest attire, the use of tobacco and intoxicants, and gambling.

3. The Bible schools and colleges shall give attention to a wholesome and systematic program of physical education. Interscholastic games shall be directed to express a positive type of Christian witness in the field of athletics and shall be confined to schools of high moral standards and wholesome influence, approved by the president, the faculty, and the executive committee of the board of trustees of the Free Methodist school scheduling the games. Membership in athletic conferences or leagues not under Christian auspices is forbidden. Football, except such modified forms as touch football and soccer, are forbidden.

4. The rendering of class plays, dramas, and amateur theatricals in public and private are forbidden. This shall not be construed as forbidding the proper and necessary instruction in education.

5. The president and the faculty shall be charged with the responsibility of insuring that all student publications and programs are in harmony with the rules and standards of the Free Methodist Church.

6. All instruction in the several departments shall be in positive harmony with and conformity to the teachings of the Scriptures and the standards of the Free Methodist Church set forth in her statement of doctrine in the DISCIPLINE.

I have read the following statement taken from the Free

Methodist DISCIPLINE Par. 33, of the position of the Free Methodist Church upon the doctrine and experience of holiness (entire sanctification) and am in complete agreement with it.

Date ..... Signature .....

Institution .....

Statement: "Justified persons, while they do not outwardly commit sin, are nevertheless conscious of sin still remaining in the heart. They feel a natural tendency to evil, a proneness to depart from God and cleave to the things of earth. Those who are sanctified wholly are saved from all inward sin—from evil thoughts and evil tempers. No wrong temper, none contrary to love, remains in the soul. All their thought, words, and actions are governed by pure love.

"Entire sanctification takes place subsequently to justification, and is the work of God wrought instantaneously upon the consecrated, believing soul. After a soul is cleansed from all sin, it is then fully prepared to grow in grace."

This statement is to be filed with The Department of Educational Institutions, Commission on Christian Education of the Free Methodist Church, Winona Lake, Indiana.

9. A complaint of violation of any of these principles shall first be presented to the Commission on Christian Education, and should it be found valid, it shall be referred to the Board of Administration, which shall hear all the evidence and, until the violation has ceased, apply the penalty to any school found guilty.

¶ 164. Canadian Educational Institutions.

Because of the international differences in educational standards and practices, Canadian educational institutions shall operate under the control of the Canadian Executive Board, subject to the "Guiding Principles" set forth in Par. 163. Canadian schools shall be exempt from supervision by the Department of Educational Institutions except upon request of the Canadian Executive Board with reference to special problems.

¶ 165. John Wesley Seminary

1. Authorization: The Free Methodist Church shall maintain a theological seminary for the post-college training of candidates for the ministry and other types of Christian service. This institution shall be known as John Wesley Seminary, and shall be incorporated to secure the rights and privileges belonging to such educational institutions.

2. Control: The Board of Administration shall constitute the Seminary Board of Control, with a Seminary Executive Board of thirteen members to plan and direct the institution subject to the approval of the Board of Control. The Seminary Executive Board shall be composed of the members of the Commission on Christian Education and the president and one additional member selected by the Board of Control from each of the other three commissions.

3. Support: John Wesley Seminary shall be supported by such general assessments, special appropriations and solicitations as shall be approved by the Board of Control.

4. Affiliation: The Board of Control may affiliate the institution with such other seminary organizations as it may deem desirable or necessary, provided such institutions are unqualifiedly evangelical and Wesleyan in doctrine as interpreted by the Free Methodist Church.

5. Guiding Principles: All the "Guiding Principles" in Par. 163 above shall apply to John Wesley Seminary except 1, but 9 shall be modified to allow complaints to be brought first to the Seminary Executive Board rather than to the Commission on Christian Education.

(See John Wesley's admonitions preceding Par. 100)

¶ 240. Each annual conference shall be composed of all the traveling, supernumerary, and superannuated preachers who have been duly received into full membership within its bounds, lay delegates elected by the several circuits, as provided in Par. 62, and women evangelists as provided in Par. 360, Sec. 4. Probationers in the conference are members without vote.

¶ 241. There shall be the following annual conferences, to wit: Genesee, Illinois, Susquehanna, Michigan, Kansas, Minnesota and Northern Iowa, New York, Iowa, Wisconsin, North Michigan, Ohio, Central Illinois, Texas, Missouri, West Kansas, Dakota, Pittsburgh, California, East Michigan, Louisiana, Oregon, West Iowa, Wabash, Colorado, North Minnesota, Nebraska, Southern California, Ozark, Columbia River, Washington, West Ontario, East Ontario, Kentucky and Tennessee, Oil City, Oklahoma, South Africa, Georgia and Carolina, Florida, Maryland-Virginia, Saskatchewan, Alberta, North Indiana, Japan, and others organized as hereinafter provided.

¶ 242. A new society, organized near the boundary line between two conferences and in a conference which has no organized work within forty miles, shall be permitted to decide for itself to which of the two conferences it shall belong.

¶ 243. Each annual conference shall appoint the place and, with the concurrence of the bishops, the time of its own sessions. If for any reason a conference cannot be held at the place appointed, the determination of the place shall be left with the district superintendents and the secretary of the last conference.

¶ 244. 1. In the absence of the bishop and of the elder whom he may have appointed, the conference shall elect, by ballot, an elder from its own number to preside. All other conference officers must be members of the church within the bounds of the conference.

2. It shall elect, by ballot if it wishes, a secretary who shall continue in office until a successor is elected. His duties are as follows:

(1) To record in a suitable book the proceedings of the conference, excluding anything not actually conference business.

(2) To keep, in a book to be preserved with the journal, the original or so-called rough minutes as approved by the conference.

(3) To keep on file the reports adopted by the conference and record in the journal only financial and such other reports as the conference may order.

(4) To be custodian of the conference records and journal.

(5) To transcribe from the annual conference records all the decisions of disciplinary law rendered by the president, giving the number of the pages upon which those decisions are recorded, and forward the transcript promptly to the Judicial Council and, if there are no such decisions, to send a statement to that effect to the Judicial Council.

(6) To send the conference records quadrennially to the General Conference.

3. It shall elect a treasurer who shall be bonded. In case of a vacancy the district superintendents of the conference may appoint a treasurer to act until the next conference session. He shall remit quarterly all funds due the general church treasurer. The general church treasurer shall, immediately after the conference session, notify the conference secretary of any deficit.

4. It shall elect an auditor who shall carefully audit the accounts of the treasurer and report at the close of each annual session.

¶ 245. 1. Each annual conference shall have a committee on conference membership and guidance, invested with the responsibility of carefully screening the candidates for reception into the conference whether on probation or in full relation. The committee shall keep out those unsuited to membership and guide and counsel those who are received, that they may be able to meet all the demands of their holy office.

2. Committee on Ministerial Relations. The president of the conference shall not be a member of the Committee on Ministerial Relations. The character of a preacher shall not be referred to this committee except upon charges of unsound doctrine or irregularities of life. The committee's report upon a particular case must, except with the consent of the accused to expunge it, be placed in the conference records, with a statement of the charges and the final action.

¶ 246. The ministers and lay members composing the annual conference shall deliberate and vote as one body; but at the call of one third of all the members present and voting, the house shall divide and the ministers and lay members vote separately; and it shall require a majority of both branches to constitute a vote of the conference.

¶ 247. An annual conference is not a legislative body. It cannot enact laws, nor can it interpret the DISCIPLINE by resolutions or reports and bring ministers or laymen to trial for violation of them.

¶ 248. The territory embraced by each annual conference shall be divided into districts, and over each district one of the elders shall be appointed by the conference as district superintendent. The conference may instruct a superintendent to work under the general direction of an advisory committee, provided that there be no infringement of the disciplinary powers of the superintendent.

The district superintendents and an equal number of lay members of the conference (one from the districts of each superintendent), to be elected by ballot the first day of the session, shall, together with the president of the conference, constitute a stationing committee, of which the president shall be chairman and have a casting vote. When an annual conference has but one district superintendent, it may, if it so desires, increase the number of members on the stationing committee by electing one additional elder and an additional layman. If for any reason a district superintendent is not able to serve on the stationing committee, the conference shall elect one of its elders to take his place. No person who is recommended to the annual conference to be received on probation, nor a supply, though acting as a delegate, shall be eligible to serve on the stationing committee.

2. It shall be the duty of the stationing committee to appoint the preachers to their several fields of labor each year.

No minister who refuses to serve a charge or circuit when appointed by his conference, shall be appointed to any work by another conference or district superintendent without the consent of the district superintendent of the circuit which he refused to serve.

3. A preacher may be appointed to a circuit without having charge of it; the administration of it shall then devolve upon the district superintendent and the official board.

¶ 250. An annual conference may, upon the unanimous recommendation of the stationing committee, leave a preacher without an appointment. Any preacher so left without an appointment two years in succession may be located by vote of the annual conference.

¶ 251. When a preacher is located, or discontinued by an annual conference, the stationing committee shall fix the place of his membership. When an unordained preacher on probation and in good standing in the annual conference is discontinued from the traveling connection by his conference, he shall sustain the relation of local preacher until the ensuing session of his quarterly conference.

¶ 252. An ordained woman deacon in an annual conference married to a preacher who is also a member of an annual conference becomes an ordained local preacher.

¶ 253. Each annual conference shall elect an annual conference Board of Claimants of not less than three nor more than seven members. The presiding bishop or his appointee shall be ex officio chairman of this board during the session of the annual conference. The duties of the board are outlined in the plan for conference claimants. (See Par. 125, Sec. 3, and Par. 128, Sec. 3, for duties of the annual conference, relating to care of superannuate preachers.)

¶ 254. Each annual conference is required to organize a conference evangelistic board which shall be authorized to carry on aggressive evangelistic work within its bounds. This board shall have power to raise funds and to employ evangelists, band workers and helpers to labor within the conference bounds, who, with the concurrence of the district superintendents, shall be authorized to establish new societies, provided that it make provision and be responsible for the support of all the laborers which it employs.

¶ 255. Members of an annual conference may be appointed as evangelists. They shall be entitled to the rights and privileges of those appointed to circuits, and shall be subject to the same rules and regulations, so far as they apply to their circumstances. They shall be subject to the restrictions of Par. 181, Sec. 9 (3). ## CHAPTER I

QUALIFICATIONS AND WORK

I. The Call to Preach

¶ 300. Examination of Those Who Think They Are Moved by the Holy Ghost to Preach.—1. The following questions shall be asked the candidates, namely: Do you know God as a pardoning God? Have you the love of God abiding in you? Do you desire nothing but what is the will of God? Do you believe that entire sanctification is the work of God wrought instantaneously upon the heart of the consecrated, believing soul subsequent to justification? Do you believe you are called of God to preach the gospel?

2. The following questions shall be considered by the quarterly conference: Have they gifts as well as grace for the work? Have they in some tolerable degree a clear, sound understanding, a right judgment in the things of God, and a just conception of salvation by faith? Has God given them any degree of utterance? Do they speak justly, readily, clearly? Have they fruit? Are any truly convinced of sin, and converted to God by their preaching? And are they holy in all manner of conversation?

As long as these marks concur in any one, we believe he is called of God to preach. These we receive as sufficient proof that he is moved by the Holy Ghost.

II. Rules for a Preacher's Conduct

¶ 301. Be diligent. Never be unemployed; never be triflingly employed. Never trifle away time; neither spend any more time at any place than is strictly necessary.

Be serious. Let your motto be, Holiness to the Lord. Avoid all lightness, jesting and foolish talking.

Converse sparingly and conduct yourself prudently with women (1 Tim. 5:2). Take no step toward marriage without first consulting your brethren.

Believe evil of no one without good evidence; unless you see it done, take heed how you credit it. Put the best construction on everything. You know the judge is always supposed to be on the prisoner's side.

Speak evil of no one, because your word, especially, would eat as doth a canker. Keep your thoughts within your own breast, till you come to the person concerned.

Tell every one under your care what you think wrong in his conduct or temper, and that lovingly and plainly as soon as may be; else it will fester in your heart. Make all haste to cast the fire out of your bosom.

Avoid all affectation. A preacher of the gospel is the servant of all. Be ashamed of nothing but sin.

Be punctual. Do everything exactly at the time. And do not mend our rules, but keep them; not for wrath, but for conscience' sake.

You have nothing to do but to save souls; therefore, spend and be spent in this work; and go always not only to those who need you, but to those who need you most.

Observe, it is not only your business to preach so many times, and to take care of this or that society, but to save as many as you can; to bring as many sinners as you can to repentance, and with all your power to build them up in that holiness without which they cannot see the Lord. And remember that a Free Methodist preacher is to mind every point, great and small, in the Free Methodist DISCIPLINE! Therefore, you will need to exercise all the sense and grace you have.

Act in all things not according to your own will, but as a son in the gospel. As such it is your duty to employ your time in the manner in which we direct; in preaching, and visiting from house to house; in reading, meditation and prayer. Above all, if you labor with us in the Lord's vineyard, it is needful that you should do that part of the work which we advise, at those times and places which we judge most for His glory.

¶ 302. The following smaller advices may be of use:

Be sure never to disappoint a congregation.

Begin at the time appointed.

Always suit your subject to your audience.

Choose the plainest texts you can.

Take care not to ramble, but keep to the text, and make out what you take in hand.

Avoid everything awkward or affected, in your gesture, phrase or pronunciation.

Do not usually pray more than eight or ten minutes, at most, without intermission.

Frequently read and enlarge upon a portion of Scripture; and young preachers should often exhort without taking a text.

Always avail yourself of the great festivals, by preaching on the occasion.

Let your deportment be serious, weighty and solemn.

III. Spiritual Qualifications

¶ 303. A preacher is to be qualified for his charge by walking closely with God, and having his work greatly at heart; and by understanding and loving discipline, ours in particular.

¶ 304. We should frequently ask each other the following questions:

Do you walk closely with God? Have you now fellowship with the Father and the Son? At what hour do you rise? Do you punctually observe the morning and evening hours of retirement? Do you spend the day in the manner which the conference advises? Do you converse seriously, usefully and closely?

¶ 305. To be more particular, you should use all the means of grace yourself, and enforce the use of them on all other persons.

They are either instituted or prudential.

The instituted are:

1. Prayer—private, family and public; consisting of deprecation, petition, intercession and thanksgiving.

Do you use each of these? Do you forecast daily, wherever you are, to secure time for private devotion? Do you practice it everywhere? Do you ask everywhere, Have you family prayer? Do you ask individuals, Do you use private prayer every morning and evening in particular?

2. Searching the Scriptures—reading regularly, some part every day; regularly, all the Bible in order; carefully, with notes; seriously, with prayer before and after; fruitfully, immediately practicing what you learn there; meditating, at set times and by rule; hearing the Word at every opportunity, with prayer, before, at, after. Have your Bible always about you.

3. The Lord's Supper. Do you use this at every opportunity? With solemn prayer before? With deliberate self-devotion?

4. Fasting. Do you use as much abstinence and fasting every week as your health, strength and labor will permit?

5. Christian conference. Are you convinced how important and difficult it is to order your conversation aright? Is it always with grace, seasoned with salt, meet to minister grace to the hearers? Do you converse too long at a time? Is not an hour commonly enough? Would it not be well always to have a determined end in view, and pray before and after?

¶ 306. The prudential means we may use either as Christians, as Free Methodists, or as preachers.—

As Christians, what particular rules have you in order to grow in grace? What arts of holy living? As Free Methodists, do you never miss your class? As preachers, have you thoroughly considered your duty? Are you conscientious in executing every part of it? Do you meet each society and its leaders?

These means may be used without fruit. But there are some means which cannot; namely, watching, denying ourselves, taking up our cross and living always as in the presence of God.

Do you steadily watch against the world? Yourself? Your besetting sin? Do you deny yourself every useless pleasure of sense, imagination, honor? Are you temperate in all things? Instance, in food? Do you use only that kind and that degree which is best both for body and soul? Do you see the necessity of this. Do you eat no more at each meal than is necessary. Are you not heavy or drowsy after dinner? Do you use only that kind and degree of drink which is best both for the body and soul? Do you choose and use water for your common drink? And only take wine medicinally or sacramentally? Wherein do you take up your cross daily? Do you cheerfully bear your cross, however grievous to nature, as a gift of God, and labor to profit thereby? Do you endeavor to set God always before you? To see his eye continually fixed upon you? Never can you use these means but a blessing will ensue. And the more you use them, the more you will grow in grace.

IV. Matter and Manner of Preaching

¶ 307. The best general method of preaching is: 1. To convince. 2. To offer Christ. 3. To invite. 4. To build up. 5. To do this in some measure in every sermon.

¶ 308. The most effectual way of preaching Christ is to preach him in all his offices, and to declare his law, as well as his gospel, both to believers and unbelievers. Let us strongly and closely insist upon inward and outward holiness in all its branches.

V. Where to Preach

¶ 309. We do not deem it advisable to preach in as many places as we can without forming societies. We have made the trial in various places, and that for a considerable length of time. In all cases the seed has fallen by the wayside. There is scarcely any fruit remaining.

1. We should endeavor to preach most where there is the greatest number of quiet and willing hearers, and where there is most fruit.

2. We ought diligently to observe in what places God is pleased at any time to pour out his Spirit more abundantly; and at that time to send more laborers than usual into that part of the harvest.

VI. Pastoral Visitation and Enforcement of Practical Religion

¶ 310. We should endeavor to assist those under our care, and to aid in the salvation of souls by instructing them in their own homes. What unspeakable need there is of this!

We can but just touch on a few particulars. How little faith is there among even professing Christians! How little communion with God! How little living in heaven, walking as for eternity, deadness to every creature! How much love of the world, desire of pleasure, of ease, of getting money! How little brotherly love! What continual judging one another! What gossiping, evil-speaking, tale-bearing! What want of moral honesty! To instance only one particular: Who does as he would be done by in buying and selling?

Family religion is wanting in many branches. And what avails public preaching alone, though we could preach like angels? We must, yea, every traveling preacher must instruct the people from house to house.

¶ 311. Our religion is not sufficiently deep, or universally uniform. It is superficial, partial, uneven. It will be so until we spend half as much time in this visiting as we now do in talking uselessly. Can we find a better method of doing this than Mr. Baxter's? If not, let us adopt it without delay. His whole tract, entitled, "The Reformed Pastor," is well worth a careful perusal. Speaking of this visiting from house to house, he says: "We shall find many hindrances, both in ourselves and the people.

1. "In ourselves there is much dullness and laziness, so that there will be much ado to get us to be faithful in the work.

2. "Some of us have a foolish bashfulness. We know not how to begin, and blush to contradict the devil.

3. "But the greater hindrance is weakness of faith. Our whole motion is weak, because the spring of it is weak.

4. "Lastly, we are unskilled in the work. How few know how to deal with men so as to get within them, and suit all our discourse to their several conditions and tempers; to choose the fittest subjects, and follow them with a holy mixture of seriousness, terror, love, and meekness?"

Undoubtedly this private application is implied in those solemn words of the apostle: "I charge thee before God and the Lord Jesus Christ, who shall judge the quick and the dead at his appearing and kingdom, preach the word; be instant in season, out of season; reprove, rebuke, exhort, with all longsuffering."

O brethren, if we could but set this work on foot in all our congregations, and prosecute it zealously, what glory would redound to God. If the common lukewarmness were banished, and every shop and every house were busy in speaking of the Word and works of God, surely God would dwell in our habitations and make us his delight.

¶ 312. It is objected, 1. "This will take up so much time we shall not have leisure to follow our studies." We answer, (1) Gaining knowledge is a good thing, but saving souls is better. By this very thing you will gain the most excellent knowledge, that of God and eternity. (2) You will have time for gaining other knowledge, too. Only sleep no more than you need; "and never be idle or triflingly employed." But, (3) If you can do but one, let your studies alone. We ought to throw by all the libraries of the world, rather than be guilty of the loss of one soul.

It is objected, 2. "The people will not submit to it." If some will not, others will. And all the success with them will repay all your labors. Oh, let us herein follow the example of St. Paul! (1) For our general business, Serving the Lord with all humility of mind. (2) Our special work, Take heed to yourselves and to all the flock. (3) Our doctrine, Repentance toward God and faith in our Lord Jesus Christ. (4) The place, I have taught you publicly, and from house to house. (5) The object and manner of teaching, I ceased not to warn every one night and day, with tears. (6) His innocence and self-denial herein, I have coveted no man's silver or gold. (7) His patience, Neither count I my life dear unto myself.

And among all other motives, let these be ever before our eyes: 1. The church which he hath purchased with his own blood. 2. Grievous wolves shall enter in; yea, of your own selves shall men arise, speaking perverse things.

Write this upon your hearts, and it will do you more good than twenty years' study. Then you will have no time to spare; you will have work enough. Then, likewise, no preacher will stay with us who is as salt that has lost its savor. For to such, this employment will be mere drudgery. And in order to do it, you will have need of all the knowledge you can procure, and all the grace you can obtain.

¶ 313. The sum. is, Go into every house in course, and teach every one therein, young and old, to be Christians, inwardly and outwardly. Make every particular plain to their understandings. Fix it in their minds, write it on their hearts. In order to do this, there must be line upon line, precept upon precept. What patience, what love, what knowledge is requisite for this! We must needs do this, were it only to avoid idleness. Do we not loiter away many hours in every week? Each try himself. No idleness is consistent with a growth in grace. Nay, without exactness in redeeming time, you cannot retain the grace you received in justification.

¶ 314. Why are we not more holy? Why do we not live as for eternity? Why do we not walk with God all the day long? Why are we not all devoted to doing good, breathing the whole spirit of missionaries?

Chiefly because we do not properly use the means. 1. How few wait upon the Lord in secret prayer until his blessing comes on the soul? 2. Do we know the obligation and benefit of fasting and abstinence? 3. How often do we practice it? 4. How little there is of self-denial? 5. How few bring their tithes and offerings into the storehouse of the Lord? 6. How much there is of consecration to our own wills instead of the will of the Lord? 7. How few manifest a disposition to submit themselves one to another? 8. What a want there is of properly governing the tongue. The neglect of these alone is sufficient to account for our feebleness and faintness of spirit. We should amend from this hour.

¶ 315. How shall we guard against Sabbath breaking, evil speaking, unprofitable conversation, lightness, expensiveness or gayety of apparel, and contracting debts without due care to discharge them?

1. We should preach expressly on each of these heads. 2. Read in every society the sermon on evil speaking. 3. The leaders should closely examine and exhort every person to put away the accursed thing. 4. The preachers should warn every society that none who is guilty herein can remain with us. 5. Extirpate from our church all buying or selling of goods which have not paid the duty laid upon them by government. 6. Extirpate bribery, receiving anything, directly or indirectly, for voting at any election. 7. Strongly advise our people to discountenance all treats given by candidates before or at elections, and not to be partakers in any respect of such practices. Show no respect to persons herein, but expel all that touch the accursed thing.

VII. Employment of Time

¶ 316. We advise you, 1. As often as possible, to rise at five. 2. From five to six in the morning, and from five to six in the evening, to meditate, pray, and read the Scriptures with notes, and the closely practical parts of what Mr. Wesley has published. 3. From seven in the morning till twelve (allowing one hour for breakfast) read with much prayer some of our best religious books.

Other reasons may concur why the people under our care are not better, but the chief is, because we are not more knowing and more holy.

But why are we not more knowing? Because we are idle. We forget our first rule, "Be diligent. Never be unemployed. Never be triflingly employed. Neither spend any more time at any place than is strictly necessary." We fear there is altogether a fault in this matter, and that few of us are clear. Which of us spend as many hours a day in God's work as we did formerly in man's work? We talk—talk or read what comes next to hand. We must, absolutely must, cure this evil, or betray the cause of God. But how? 1. Read the most useful books, and that regularly and constantly. 2. Steadily spend all the morning in this employment, or at least five hours in the four and twenty. "But I have no taste for reading." Contract a taste for it by use, or return to your former employment. "But I have no books." Be diligent to spread the books, and you will have the use of them.

VIII. Union Among Ourselves

¶ 317. We should be deeply sensible, from what we have known, of the evil of division in principle, spirit, or practice, and of the dreadful consequences to ourselves and others. If we are united, what can stand before us? If we divide, we shall destroy ourselves, the work of God, and the souls of our people.

In order to a closer union with each other,

1. We should be deeply convinced of the absolute necessity of it.
2. Pray earnestly for, and speak freely to each other.
3. When we meet, let us never part without prayer.
4. Take care not to despise each other's gifts.
5. Never speak lightly of one another.
6. Defend one another's character in everything, so far as is consistent with truth.
7. Labor in honor each to prefer the other before himself.
8. We recommend a serious perusal of The Causes, Evils and Cures of Heart and Church Divisions.

IX. Union with Others

¶ 318. We have Christian fellowship and love for all persons of whatever denomination who show by their lives that they "follow peace with all men, and holiness without which no man shall see the Lord." We will unite with all well-disposed persons, in an open, Christian manner, in promoting social and civil reforms. But we cannot unite, where we are required to compromise our principles, in holding union meetings with any person, or denomination, whose practical standard of Christian character and church fellowship is obviously below that plainly set forth in the New Testament.

CHAPTER II

MINISTERS AND ANNUAL CONFERENCES

I. Reception on Probation

¶ 320. 1. A local preacher or evangelist who has been duly recommended by his quarterly conference may be received on probation by an annual conference after passing an examination in the prescribed course of study; and when so received he shall have from the annual conference a certificate of his relation, signed by the president and the secretary. But the requirements of this paragraph shall not be so fully enforced as to preclude the reception of a person who, in the judgment of the annual conference, is possessed of such natural gifts and graces as to promise at least a fair degree of success in the work of God, and who has the recommendation of two thirds of the stationing committee.

2. Women may be received on probation and into full membership and be ordained deacon, on the same conditions as men, provided always that this shall not be regarded as a step toward ordination as elder, and provided further that no woman whose husband is a member of an annual conference either on probation or in full relation shall be eligible to be received into the conference. Upon being received on probation a woman automatically loses the seat in conference she may have had under Par. 360, Sec. 4.

3. No candidate who has been divorced, though on scriptural grounds, and married to a second wife, shall, while the former wife lives, be admitted to the conference on probation or in full connection until he has been approved by the Board of Bishops. This shall be construed to apply likewise to a candidate whose wife has been divorced from a husband still living when the question of admission comes before the conference.

4. A preacher on probation in an annual conference is no longer a member of a society to be reported with the local preachers whose licenses are renewed by a quarterly conference. Instead he holds his membership in the annual conference and is counted with the preachers; but he is not entitled to vote.

5. A probationer shall be allowed a maximum of four years to complete the course of study required for admission into the conference in full membership. Should he fail to complete the course of study in that time, his status as probationer may be continued only upon recommendation of the conference examining board.

II. Reception into Full Membership

¶ 321. 1. A traveling preacher may be received into full membership and be reported as having a seat in the conference after having been employed in the regular itinerant work two successive years subsequently to his reception on probation and after passing an examination in the required course of study and giving satisfactory answers to the following questions, namely:

- (1) Have you faith in Christ?
- (2) Have you present assurance of sins forgiven?
- (3) Do you believe in Christian perfection?
- (4) Have you attained to this rich experience in your own heart? (If not) Are you groaning after it?
- (5) Are you resolved to devote yourself wholly to God and his work?
- (6) Do you know the general rules? Do you keep them?
- (7) Do you regularly attend the sacrament?
- (8) Have you read our DISCIPLINE?
- (9) Are you willing to conform to it?
- (10) Have you considered the rules for a preacher?
- (11) Will you keep them for conscience' sake?
- (12) Are you determined to employ all your time in the work of God?
- (13) Will you endeavor not to speak too long or too loud?
- (14) Will you diligently instruct the children in every place?
- (15) Will you visit from house to house?
- (16) Will you recommend fasting, or abstinence, both by precept and example?

(17) Are you in debt?

2. For restrictions upon the admission of divorced persons, see Sec. 3 of the preceding paragraph.

III. Reception from Other Denominations

¶ 322. 1. Ministers from other evangelical churches who desire to unite with our church may be received according to our usages, provided that they give satisfactory answers to the questions which we propose to our own laymen and ministers before receiving them into full membership; and that they satisfy an annual conference of their being in orders, of their agreement with us in doctrine, discipline, government, and usages, and of their gifts, graces, and usefulness.

2. We do not recognize the credentials of a minister from another denomination if he has remarried and has a divorced wife living, or if his wife has a divorced husband living.

IV. Ordination Credentials

¶ 323. 1. Every minister, whether local or itinerant, whose ordination is recognized by an annual conference, shall be entitled to a parchment from the president of the conference, certifying the fact of his ordination.

2. An ordained minister in good standing who unites with another church or is granted permission to withdraw from the Free Methodist Church, shall deposit his parchments with the secretary of the conference and receive a receipt for them.

3. A minister who is expelled from the church, or is allowed to withdraw under charges, forfeits his parchments. If he refuses or neglects to deposit them with the secretary of the conference from which he has separated, the conference shall by official action declare them forfeited.

V. Termination of Conference Membership

¶ 324. Conference membership may be terminated by:

1. Voluntary location.

2. Location through action of the conference under the provisions of Par. 250.

Par. 325 MINISTERS AND ANNUAL CONFERENCES

3. Location under Par. 252 of an ordained woman deacon whose husband is a member of an annual conference.

4. Ceasing to travel or to do the work assigned, without proper consent. See Par. 329.

5. Withdrawal with consent of the conference (see Par. 257, Sec. 12).

A minister who leaves the church after complaints have been lodged against him and who regains membership by any means, shall not be allowed to exercise any of the functions of the ministerial office until he has given satisfaction to the conference to which he belonged at the time of leaving the church.

VI. Transfer of Membership

¶ 325. 1. To transfer to another annual conference a minister must have a certificate of standing from either his quarterly or his annual conference. This certificate expires with the first roll call of the ensuing annual conference.

2. Only an annual conference can give a certificate of standing to a minister intending to join another denomination. Membership in the conference and the church terminates upon the giving of such a certificate.

3. A conference minister who unites with another denomination without having requested or received from our church proper credentials of withdrawal may, upon satisfactory evidence of that fact, be declared withdrawn by a majority vote of the conference.

CHAPTER III

I. DEACONS AND ELDERS

¶ 327. Traveling Deacons: 1. A minister who has been employed in the regular itinerant work for two successive years after his reception on probation and who has completed the first two years of a theological course or has passed an examination in the required home study course, may be constituted a traveling deacon by a majority vote of the conference, and the laying on of the hands of the president. In foreign mission fields, the conference shall have authority to elect him to the deacon's office sooner if they judge it expedient.

2. It is the duty of a deacon to baptize, to officiate in marriage ceremonies, to assist the elder in administering the Lord's Supper, and when appointed to a charge, to perform all the duties of a traveling preacher.

¶ 328. Traveling Elders: 1. Every traveling deacon shall exercise that office two years before he is eligible to the office of elder, except in the case of missions, when the conference shall have authority to elect him to the elder's office sooner if they judge it expedient. A traveling deacon who has completed the required four-year theological course or passed an examination in the required home course of study, shall be constituted a traveling elder by a majority vote of the conference and by the laying on of the hands of the president and of some of the elders present.

2. In time of war the Board of Bishops shall have authority to elect to elder's orders an ordained deacon who has completed only a part of the third and fourth years' disciplinary requirements, if he is an approved candidate for chaplaincy in the army or the navy of the United States and has been recommended by his quarterly conference.

3. It is the duty of an elder to administer baptism and the Lord's Supper, to officiate in marriage ceremonies and all parts of divine worship, and, when appointed to a charge, to perform all the duties of a traveling preacher.

¶ 329. No elder or deacon who, except in case of sickness, inability, or other unavoidable circumstances, ceases to travel without the consent of the annual conference, certified under the hand of the president of the conference, shall exercise the peculiar functions of his office or even be allowed to preach among us; nevertheless, the final determination of the case rests with the annual conference. (See Par. 406.)

CHAPTER IV

BISHOPS

¶ 330. 1. The General Conference shall elect by ballot two or more traveling elders as bishops to be known as the Board of Bishops who shall remain in office during the quadrennium and, unless the General Conference decides upon a lesser number of bishops, until others shall be elected in their places.

2. It shall be the duty of the Board of Bishops:

- a. To meet at least once a year.
- b. To exchange experiences and to counsel and formulate plans for the work of the church.
- c. To group the conferences and arrange the conference schedules so that, as far as practicable, no substitute other than a bishop will be assigned to any one conference for two successive years.

¶ 331. It shall be the duty of the bishops:

1. To visit each conference in their respective groups during the year, and as far as possible, call the pastors and conference leaders together to counsel and advise them in the promotion of the spiritual and temporal interests of the church in accordance with the plan of the Board of Bishops.

2. To oversee the spiritual and temporal interests of the church, and to labor to promote its purity, peace and prosperity.

3. To establish new societies.

4. To receive and suspend preachers, according to the provisions of the DISCIPLINE.

5. To change a preacher from one district to another presided over by a different superintendent, with the consent of the preacher to be removed, of the district superintendents, and of a majority of the official board of the circuit from which he is to be removed.

6. To transfer a preacher from one conference to another, with the consent of the preacher and of the conference to which he is transferred; provided, that no preacher shall be transferred to another conference without a certificate of his good standing and general acceptability, given by his annual or his quarterly conference.

7. To cite a preacher for trial for insubordination or maladministration, according to Par. 430.

8. To form new conferences in the intervals of general conferences, as the needs of the work demand, subject to the approval of the General Conference; provided, that no new conference shall be formed without the consent of the conferences whose territory is affected, nor without the consent of two thirds of the members of the Executive Commission; and that no new conference shall be organized with less than five preachers in full membership and one hundred full lay members within its bounds.

9. To preside at the sessions of the General Conference, of the Board of Administration, and of the annual conferences, and at the trial of appeals taken from quarterly or annual conferences, and to decide all questions of law therein, subject to an appeal to the General Conference or, when relevant, to the Judicial Council.

A bishop's decision upon a point of law arising in annual conference proceedings shall be the rule until reversed by the Judicial Council.

When a bishop is requested by an annual conference of which he is president to rule upon a point of law not arising in conference proceedings, the question shall be presented in writing, together with a full written explanation of the circumstances out of which the question has arisen and, if there be any, statements by the opposing parties in the dispute; all this information shall later be placed in the hands of the Judicial Council when the bishop's decision is referred to it. The bishop immediately upon ruling shall appeal to the other bishops for their opinions; and the ruling shall become binding upon them only after they have been notified that at least two of them have concurred in writing and until reversed by the Judicial Council.

10. To receive from one whom they have appointed to hold an annual conference a comprehensive written report of all the administrative proceedings which arise in that conference.

¶ 332. The bishops shall be amenable to the General Conference for the discharge of their official duties, and for their Christian conduct to the annual conferences to which they belong.

¶ 333. A bishop may elect to retire with the title of Bishop Emeritus when he reaches the age of seventy years. Otherwise he shall retire with that title after the election of his successor at the end of the General Conference nearest his seventy-fifth birthday. Any bishop so retiring after two quadrenniums of service shall receive a claim of at least one half the current salary of bishops. The difference between the regular superannuate claim due at the time to the retiring bishop and the amount called for in this provision shall be made up from the bishops' salary fund.

CHAPTER V

DISTRICT SUPERINTENDENTS

¶ 340. It shall be the duty of the district superintendent:

1. To look after the spiritual and temporal interests of the church within his district; to take charge of circuits without preachers; and to have general oversight of the work on his district.

2. To see that the permanent record book of each society is kept up to date and that all other parts of the DISCIPLINE are enforced.

3. To visit every circuit on his district whenever he judges it expedient. He is required to visit a circuit when in an emergency the official board requests him to do so. He shall then have power to call an official board, a society, or a circuit meeting and preside over it. The circuit sending for him shall pay his traveling expenses.

4. To hold four district meetings on his district during the year, except when the annual conference decides by a two-thirds vote that the work can be better served by two or three such meetings; and to report at each the growth and progress of the work on the district.

5. To hold a quarterly meeting on each circuit once in three months, except that for the reason and by the method outlined in Sec. 4 the number of meetings may be reduced to two or three during the year. With the consent of the pastor, he may appoint a supply: A traveling superintendent may hold an official board, a society, or a circuit meeting in connection with his quarterly meetings.

6. To labor as an evangelist upon his district when directed to do so by the annual conference.

7. To maintain close contact with the young ministers under his care for the purpose of counsel and encouragement.

8. To appoint, receive, suspend, and change preachers in his district or districts in the interval of the annual conference; provided that he shall not change a preacher contrary to his wishes unless by the request of two thirds of the members of the circuit, and that a preacher shall not be appointed to a circuit without the consent of the official board of that circuit. Nor shall he, without the consent of the annual conference, employ a preacher who has been rejected by that conference.

9. To see that deeds of lands upon which it is proposed to build churches or parsonages are properly made out and recorded, or that good and sufficient bonds or contracts are given before the buildings are begun.

10. To divide a circuit in the interval of the annual conference, if in his judgment the interests of the work require it and the preacher in charge and the official board consent. He may not appoint a preacher to serve two circuits at once, but he may unite an unsupplied circuit with another with the consent of the official board of the former.

11. To give the bishop all the necessary information of the state of the district and co-operate with him in setting goals and framing plans.

¶ 341. 1. Both traveling and stationed superintendents shall be elected by ballot in open conference without debate or petition, and shall be assigned to districts either by conference vote or by appointment of the stationing committee, as the conference shall decide. (See Par. 248.)

2. A conference may appoint a superintendent to more than one district at the same time.

3. Should a vacancy occur in the office of district superintendent between conferences, the bishop who presided at the last session (or who was to have presided), or his successor, shall have power to fill it, subject to the approval of the ensuing quarterly conference of the district. Should the vacancy be filled after the last regular session of the quarterly conference for the conference year, the secretary of the quarterly conference shall have power to call a special session for the sole purpose of confirming the appointment.

4. No minister shall serve in the office of superintendent in the same conference for a term exceeding eight consecutive years.

¶ 342. The superintendent shall be a member of the quarterly conference on the district which he serves; should he be appointed to two or more districts, the stationing committee shall fix his quarterly conference relation.

¶ 343. The superintendent shall be supported by the conference or district to which he is elected, each circuit contributing its proportion as agreed upon by the annual or the quarterly conference. A stationed superintendent shall be supported by the circuit to which he is appointed. The district shall assist when necessary. We recommend a conference or district budget for the traveling superintendent's support.

CHAPTER VI

PASTORS OR PREACHERS IN CHARGE

¶ 345. The duties of a preacher who has the charge of a circuit are: 1. To receive and dismiss members according to the DISCIPLINE; provided, however, that no person shall be recorded on the register as "withdrawn at his own request" until the action is approved by the official board.

2. To see that the other preachers in his circuit behave well, and need nothing.

3. To examine each of the leaders concerning his method of leading his class, observe which leaders are the most useful and have these meet the other classes as often as possible, and see that all the leaders are persons not only of sound judgment, but truly devoted to God. (See also Par. 371, Sec. 4.)

4. To hold watch-night services and love feasts, and to see that the sacrament is administered at least once in three months.

5. To take care that every society is duly supplied with books.

6. To take an exact account of all members, including every one whose name is on a society roll, keeping the names of local elders, deacons, and preachers properly distinguished, and deliver it to the annual conference, that their number may be printed in the minutes.

7. To enter the following information in the permanent record book furnished him by the official board as prescribed in Par. 270, Sec. 7:

(1) A complete and up-to-date account of all baptisms, weddings, and funerals;

(2) A list of the names and addresses of all members of the societies, with time and method of reception of each and time and reason for termination of membership.

8. To report quarterly to the official board the entries made in the record book during the quarter.

9. To leave to his successor a particular account of the circuit, with the permanent record book and a list of the subscribers to our periodicals.

10. To give an account of his circuit at every session of the quarterly conference, with the statement that the detailed records of his circuit are up to date.

11. To enforce vigorously, but calmly, all the rules of the society.

12. As soon as there are four believers in any place to put them into a class.

13. To meet the societies and classes; to visit the sick; to visit all members and probationers on his circuit, at least once in three months, and all members of his congregation whenever practicable; to preach out of doors wherever an attentive congregation can be found; to raise money for the purchase of tracts and attend to their distribution upon his circuit; to see that all the collections ordered by the conference are raised in full.

All members shall make their contributions toward the conference claims to the circuit from which they were last reported to an annual conference. Such claims, however, are not personal assessments nor is the payment of them a condition of membership.

14. To warn all from time to time that none are to remove from one circuit to another without a certificate from the preacher in charge.

15. To recommend everywhere decency and cleanliness.

16. To read the rules of the society, with the aid of the other preachers, once a year in every congregation, and once a quarter in every society.

17. To see that the trustees are elected and that the real estate belonging to the church is secured according to the laws of the state.

18. To see that no steps are taken involving the circuit in financial liability, without the consent of the official board.

19. To warn the people of the evil consequences to themselves and the Church of God, of covetousness and withholding of their means from supporting the gospel, and to urge upon all and to preach upon systematic and proportionate giving, encouraging our people to tithe their incomes.

20. To see that a fast is held in every society on his circuit, on the Friday preceding every quarterly meeting.

21. To execute all the rules fully and strenuously against frauds, and particularly against dishonest insolvencies, secret societies, labor and capitalistic organizations contravening Par. 84, and to suffer none to remain in our church who are found guilty thereof.

22. Preachers in charge of circuits who are not members of a conference shall not employ evangelists who are not members of our church, without first consulting with and securing the consent of the district superintendent and the official board.

23. To provide for the culture of converts by such instruction and encouragement as will help them go on into a definite experience of entire sanctification, and to inform probationers of the privileges, duties, and responsibilities of full membership, using particularly the Catechism, the DISCIPLINE, the history of the Free Methodist Church, and such other materials as the church provides, and forming classes for the purpose wherever practicable, but in no case neglecting to see that each person receives this care.

24. To arrange the appointments so that the local preachers will have regular and systematic employment on the Sabbath.

25. To perform the following duties on special occasions:

(1) To hold one or more missionary meetings on his circuit during the year. Par. 148.

(2) To observe Christian Education Day. Par. 165, Sec. 6.

(3) To hold a Children's Day service the second Sunday in June. Par. 156, Sec. 5.

(4) To preach a sermon on practical charity. Par. 132, Sec. 6.

(5) To read Wesley's sermon on evil speaking. Par. 315, Sec. 2.

(6) To read the General Rules once a year in every congregation and once a quarter in every society. Par. 345, Sec. 16, above.

(7) To see that a fast is held in every society on Friday preceding every quarterly meeting. Par. 345, Sec. 20, above.

(8) To foster Sunday schools and child evangelism. Par. 155, Sec. 5(4), and Par. 156, Sec. 5.

¶ 346. During the sittings of the annual conference all appointments should stand according to the plan of the circuit. Engage as many local preachers and exhorters as will supply them and pay them for their time in proportion to the allowances of the traveling preachers. If preachers and exhorters cannot attend, let some person of ability be appointed in every society to sing, pray and read one of Mr. Wesley's sermons. But if that cannot be done, let there be prayer meetings.

CHAPTER VII

SUPERNUMERARY AND SUPERANNUATED PREACHERS

¶ 347. A supernumerary preacher is a member of an annual conference whose efficiency is temporarily impaired and whose relation as a supernumerary is fixed by a vote of his conference on recommendation of the stationing committee. He shall not have any claim on the superannuated fund. His quarterly conference relation shall be determined by the stationing committee. (See Par. 349.)

¶ 348. A superannuated preacher is one who is so disqualified by physical disability or old age that he cannot take charge of a circuit or occupy any position in the church which will afford him sufficient income for his support. The question as to his disability shall be determined by his conference, on the recommendation of the committee on claimants and claims. His quarterly conference relation shall be fixed by the stationing committee.

¶ 349. If, in the interval of conference, a supernumerary or a superannuated preacher moves where attendance at the quarterly conference in which his relation was fixed is inconvenient, upon his request he may be transferred to any convenient quarterly conference by its district superintendent, with the consent of that quarterly conference.

CHAPTER I

LOCAL PREACHERS

¶ 350. 1. No person shall be licensed as a local preacher until he has been previously licensed as an exhorter and has been recommended by his official board; has been examined by the quarterly conference or the district superintendent in regard to his soundness in doctrine; has shown evidence of piety, gifts, and usefulness; and has given satisfactory answers to all the questions found in Par. 300: "Examination of Those Who Think They Are Moved by the Holy Ghost to Preach."

2. To have his license renewed, a local preacher must have a new recommendation from his official board.

3. A quarterly conference may revoke a local preacher's license for violation of the conditions of it.

4. The examination of local preachers may be oral.

¶ 351. A local preacher shall be eligible to the office of deacon after he has preached four years from the time he received a license, has obtained a recommendation from the quarterly conference certifying his Christian character and his usefulness as a preacher, and has passed an examination in the prescribed course of study. The years a woman spends as an evangelist shall not count on the time required for ordination as local deacon.

¶ 352. A local deacon shall be eligible to the office of local elder after he has preached four years from the time he was ordained a deacon, has obtained a recommendation from the quarterly conference of which he is a member, certifying his qualifications in doctrine, discipline, talents, and usefulness, and has passed an examination in the prescribed course of study.

¶ 353. Every local elder, local deacon, or local preacher shall have his name enrolled in the quarterly conference journal and shall be amenable to his quarterly conference for his Christian character and the faithful performance of his ministerial office. He shall have his name recorded on a class paper, and shall meet in class. In neglect of these duties, or neglect to pass an examination in the prescribed course of study, the quarterly conference, if it judges proper, may deprive him of his ministerial office. No ordained local preacher, however, shall be deprived of his ministerial functions without due form of trial and conviction.

¶ 354. Let the appointments be so arranged as to give the local preachers regular and systematic employment on the Sabbath.

¶ 355. When a local preacher or evangelist is employed as a supply, his membership shall be on the charge where he labors. He shall take a regular church letter whenever he may be so employed outside of the district where his membership may be.

¶ 356. Among our unordained preachers only those in charge of circuits by the appointment of a stationing committee may solemnize marriage, and they only in those states whose laws permit unordained preachers to perform the ceremony. They shall also have the right to administer the ordinance of baptism.

CHAPTER II

LICENSED EVANGELISTS

¶ 360. Evangelists are a class called of God to promote revivals and to spread the gospel of Christ abroad in the land, but not necessarily called to pastoral charges or to government in the church.

1. Any brother or sister in good standing in the church, feeling called to this work, may, upon the recommendation of the society, upon due examination according to Par. 300, entitled "Examination of those who think they are moved by the Holy Ghost to preach," and upon passing an examination (which may be oral) in the course of study for local preachers, be licensed by the quarterly conference.

2. Those who labor successfully as evangelists for four years may, upon recommendation of the quarterly conference, be granted a license by the annual conference, good until revoked by that conference.

3. A licensed woman evangelist may be received into an annual conference as a traveling preacher under the conditions prescribed in Par. 320, Sec. 2.

4. A woman evangelist who has been licensed by the annual conference and has served two successive years under appointment as pastor, may, upon recommendation of her quarterly conference and upon the vote of the annual conference, have a voice and a vote in the annual conference and be counted with the preachers in the transaction of conference business. This relation shall continue only so long as she receives appointment as pastor and is not married to a member of an annual conference.

5. The provisions of Par. 181, Sec. 9 (3), apply to licensed evangelists.

CHAPTER III

EXHORTERS

¶ 361. 1. Exhorters are laymen licensed by the official board of a circuit or station to conduct informal services, to exhort, and otherwise to promote revivals and advance the kingdom of God. They are helpers to the pastor and hence should qualify themselves to aid in various departments of Christian work on the charge.

2. No person shall be licensed as an exhorter until recommended by his society after having lived among the members a sufficient time to enable them to know that his religious experience, his spirit, his general deportment, and his gifts are such as to commend him to people generally.

3. He must give evidence of an experiential knowledge of God, of fair intelligence, and of aptness to learn in the school of Christ. It is hoped that those who serve God and the church in this relation will grow in knowledge, grace, and efficiency, so that the church may feel warranted in calling them into its higher ministries.

CHAPTER IV

DEACONESSSES

¶ 363. Deaconesses are a class of women who feel divinely called to advance the cause of Christ, but not to become pastors or evangelists. The duties of a deaconess shall be to care for the sick, provide for the orphans, save the erring and fallen, and to alleviate as far as possible the sufferings of those within her reach.

1. Women to be licensed as deaconesses shall be at least twenty-one years of age and of good report in the church for works of charity and for constancy of faith.

2. No person shall be recommended for deaconess' license who has not proved her Christian character and experience by living a consistent Christian life as a full member of the Free Methodist Church for at least two years in succession immediately preceding the application.

3. A candidate for deaconess' license must first be recommended to the quarterly conference by the society of which she is a member.

4. The quarterly conference, after examination into her gifts, graces and usefulness, may recommend her to the annual conference to receive license as a deaconess.

5. The annual conference, after consideration of the gifts, graces and usefulness of a person thus recommended, may grant her a license as a deaconess, good for one year only unless renewed.

6. Having been recommended by the quarterly conference and licensed by the annual conference for two years in succession, at least one year of which shall have been spent in practical deaconess work, and having passed an examination (which may be oral) in the prescribed course of study, a deaconess may receive from the annual conference a license which shall be good until revoked by the annual conference.

7. Each deaconess shall be a member of and amenable to the quarterly conference within the bounds of which she holds her church membership, and shall report her work annually to it.

8. The garb of a deaconess shall be a dark gray or black dress and a black bonnet with white ties. This garb, however, shall not be worn until she receives a permanent license from the annual conference.

9. The office of deaconess shall not be considered perpetual. A deaconess may at any time relinquish her license and discontinue her work. But while devoting her time to this work she shall be entitled to a suitable support. The method of providing for her support shall be determined by the annual conference which licensed her.

¶ 364. The Wesley-Roberts Deaconess School, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, is a recognized deaconess training school for Christian young women desiring to take the course outlined in the DISCIPLINE, Paragraphs 509-510, in connection with a practical course in nursing and city mission work.

CHAPTER V

BANDS AND BAND WORKERS

¶ 370. 1. District superintendents, evangelists appointed by the general or annual conferences or licensed by annual conferences, and pastors may organize bands of young people who are members of our church, for evangelistic or charitable work.

2. The rules and regulations of bands shall be subject to the approval of the annual conferences to which the leaders belong, or within which they hold their membership.

3. All bands shall be under the direction of district superintendents, evangelists, or pastors by whom organized. No band leader shall appoint or hold meetings where they will interfere with the regular work of any preacher duly appointed to a circuit or district, without his consent.

4. Those who labor successfully in a band for one year may be licensed by the quarterly conference from year to year as band workers.

CHAPTER VI

CLASS LEADERS

¶ 371. 1. Class leaders shall be elected in the last quarter of the conference year. The preacher in charge may nominate, and the class shall elect the leader by ballot. Any member of the society, whether or not the nominee of the pastor, shall be eligible to election as leader.

2. Each leader should carefully inquire how each soul in his class prospers; not only how each observes the outward rules, but how he grows in the knowledge and love of God.

3. The leaders should consult with those who have the charge of their circuits.

4. Let the preacher in charge see that improper leaders are changed by a new election.

5. The leaders should frequently meet one another's classes.

CHAPTER VII

STEWARDS

¶ 372. 1. The stewards should be persons of solid piety, who both know and love the Free Methodist doctrine and DISCIPLINE, and of good natural and acquired abilities to transact temporal business.

2. The number of stewards in each circuit shall not be less than three, nor more than nine.

3. The stewards shall be elected by ballot at a regular society meeting to be held after the annual circuit meeting. Where there is but one society they may be elected by the circuit meeting.

¶ 373. The duties of stewards are: 1. To seek the needy and distressed in order to relieve and comfort them. 2. To inform the preachers of any sick or disorderly persons. 3. To tell their preacher what they think wrong in him. 4. To attend the quarterly meetings of their circuit. 5. To give advice, if asked, in planning the circuit. 6. To attend committees for the application of money to churches. 7. To give counsel in matters of arbitration. 8. To provide elements for the Lord's Supper. 9. To write circular letters to the societies in the circuit to be more liberal if need be, also to let them know, when occasion requires, the state of the temporal concerns of the circuit at the last quarterly meeting.

PART VI
JUDICIAL ADMINISTRATION

CHAPTERS

- I. CHURCH TRIALS
- II. INSOLVENCIES AND SETTLEMENT OF DISPUTES

CHAPTER I

CHURCH TRIALS

I. Object of Church Discipline

¶ 400. The great object of church discipline is to reclaim and restore erring members. This should be steadily kept in view in every step taken. Every effort that love can suggest should be made to bring back to the Lord one who, while under our care, has wandered from Him.

¶ 401. In all cases of personal trespass and in others where the circumstances permit, let the duty be lovingly and faithfully performed, which our Lord enjoins in Matthew 18:15-17:

"Moreover if thy brother shall trespass against thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone; if he shall hear thee, thou hast gained thy brother. But if he will not hear thee, then take with thee one or two more, that in the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established. And if he shall neglect to hear them, tell it unto the church; but if he neglect to hear the church, let him be unto thee as a heathen man and a publican."

II. General Directions

¶ 402. If the last duty becomes necessary, let it be performed in the following manner.

1. Every crime forbidden in the Word of God, sufficient to exclude a person from the kingdom of grace and glory, shall subject a member to expulsion from the church.

2. Any member charged with immoral conduct or violation of our rules is entitled to a speedy trial, unless the complaint is otherwise disposed of. Both accuser and accused shall be entitled to the assistance of such counsel as they may select from the lay members or ministers of the church. In the trial of a traveling preacher the conference may appoint further counsel as it may deem proper. The accusers shall be responsible for the expense of their own counsel, unless he also represents the conference. The body to which the accused is amenable shall pay the costs of prosecution.

3. Both the accused and the accuser shall have the right of challenge for cause, the validity of which shall be determined by the presiding officer at the society meeting where the committee to try the case is elected.

4. In all trials the proceedings shall be taken down by a secretary appointed by the court; and when an appeal is taken, the case shall be decided from the testimony as it appears upon the record.

5. Whenever it is for the best interests of the church and the convenience of witnesses, and whenever the parties so stipulate, a case may be referred to one person appointed by the bishop or other presiding officer to try it without a committee; and when so referred, his decision shall have the same effect as that of a trial committee of an annual conference or of another appointing body, and be subject to the same right of appeal and for writ of review.

6. In an appeal, no person shall be allowed to sit who has previously voted in the decision of the case.

7. In all appeal cases the appellant shall present the counsel for the church a statement in writing of the grounds of his appeal, at least five days before the trial of the appeal. The appellate court must confine itself to the grounds of the appeal but is entitled to all relevant information that will throw light upon the appeal as presented.

8. When the appellate court grants a new trial, the case may either be remanded to the original court for a new trial or (with the consent of both parties) tried de novo (that is, by the appellate court itself).

9. Penalty shall be deferred pending the hearing of an appeal, except that a suspended minister shall not in the meantime exercise his ministerial office, nor during a period of penalty after conviction.

10. In the trial of appeals the court shall either affirm or reverse the verdict rendered in the former trial, or remand the case for a new trial; in a new trial no person shall be eligible as a juror who voted in the first trial.

11. Persons expelled after such forms of trial shall have no privileges of society or sacraments in our church without contrition, confession, and reformation satisfactory to the conference or society from which they have been expelled.

¶ 403. In all trials, either the plaintiff or the defendant may request a change of venue, and shall present in writing the reasons for the request; and if the presiding officer shall, after duly considering the grounds upon which the request is made, be convinced that conditions and circumstances render a fair and impartial trial reasonably doubtful in the body before which the action has been commenced, he may order the change of venue and name another body before which the case shall be tried.

III. Trial of Preachers in Full Membership

¶ 404. The neglect of duties required by the Word of God, the indulgence of sinful tempers, words or actions, or the dissemination of false doctrine, shall subject a preacher to private reproof by the officer of the church having the oversight of him; and, in case of persistence after proper admonition and labor, to trial and suspension from ministerial functions or expulsion.

¶ 405. Any preacher against whom a charge is brought shall be furnished, by the person preferring the charge, or by the presiding officer of the tribunal to which he is judicially responsible, with a copy of the charges against him, at least ten days before the trial, unless all the parties agree upon an earlier time for trial.

¶ 406. Any traveling preacher who, in violation of Par. 329, willfully neglects or refuses to do the work assigned him by his annual conference, except in case of sickness or other unavoidable circumstance, shall be brought, by the district superintendent or the bishop, before a committee of three ministers and three laymen, which shall have power to suspend him from all the functions of a preacher until the ensuing session of the annual conference, which shall have final determination of the case and power to render the suspension final.

¶ 407. If a charge of immorality or of unchristian conduct is brought against a preacher in the interval of the annual conferences, the district superintendent shall call a committee of not less than three nor more than six traveling preachers and an equal number of laymen, which shall have power to suspend until the next session of the annual conference, with which shall rest the decision of the case.

¶ 408. But if the accused be a superintendent, then three of the preachers of his district shall call in the superintendent of an adjoining district, who shall call him before a committee as provided above, and preside. The district making the call shall pay the traveling expenses of the superintendent called.

¶ 409. Each annual conference shall have original jurisdiction over every preacher belonging thereto, and shall have power to reprove, suspend (for a period of not more than one year, after which period he has legally satisfied the charges against him and is again entitled to a seat in the conference), locate for inefficiency or want of usefulness, or expel, according to the nature of the case and as justice may require. This shall not be so construed as to deprive traveling preachers of the ten-days' notice provided in Par. 405, except in the case of a preacher charged with gross immorality who voluntarily absents himself from the session of his annual conference.

¶ 410. All cases brought before an annual conference, either by complaint or by appeal, may be, and must be if the defendant prefers, referred to a committee of not less than four from each branch, which, in the presence of the president of the conference or of an elder whom he may appoint with the consent of both parties, shall, either during the session of the conference or after its adjournment, try the case and decide upon its merits, and its decision shall have the same effect as that of the annual conference.

¶ 411. In all cases of trial and conviction of traveling preachers, an appeal to the ensuing General Conference or the court of appeals, as the appellant may choose, shall be allowed, if he signifies at the time of verdict, or within thirty days after he has been notified thereof, his intention to appeal.

¶ 412. All cases brought before the General Conference by appeal, may, with the consent of both parties, be referred to a committee of not less than six ministerial and six lay delegates, which, in the presence of one of the bishops, shall hear the case and decide upon its merits; and its decisions shall have the same effect as that of the General Conference.

IV. Form of Procedure

I. FORM FOR A BILL OF CHARGES

- ¶ 413. 1. Charge. (Name the offense.)
2. Specifications. (Name the acts, times and places.)

II. ORDER OF CONDUCTING CHURCH TRIALS

- ¶ 414. 1. Devotional exercises.
2. Reading of the action of the society meeting or conference by which the committee to try the case was appointed, and the names of the committee.
3. The appointment of a secretary.
4. Reading the charges and specifications by the secretary.
5. Answer by the accused in person or by counsel.
6. Statement of the case, and line of evidence by the prosecution.
7. Evidence of the prosecution, and cross-examination by the defense.
8. Statement of the case and line of defense, by the defense.
9. Evidence for the defense, and cross-examination by the prosecution.
10. Rebutting evidence for the prosecution.
11. Rebutting evidence for the defense.
12. Summing up the case by the prosecution.
13. Summing up the case by the defense.
14. Should it be deemed proper to allow the prosecution to reply, the defense shall also be permitted to reply.
15. Instructions of the presiding officer upon the form of bringing in their verdict.
16. The verdict.
17. The court shall announce the verdict and impose the penalty fixed by the trial committee.

V. Surrender and Restoration of Credentials

¶ 415. 1. When a member of an annual conference is deprived of his credentials, by expulsion or otherwise, they shall be filed with the papers of his conference; and should he, at any future time, give satisfactory evidence to the conference of his amendment, and procure a certificate from the quarterly conference of the charge where he resides or from another annual conference which may have received him on probation, recommending to the annual conference of which he was formerly a member the restoration of his credentials, the conference may restore them.

2. When a local elder or deacon is expelled, the district superintendent shall require of him the credentials of his ordination, to be filed with the papers of the annual conference; and should he, at any future time, produce to the annual conference a certificate of his restoration, signed by the president and countersigned by the secretary of the quarterly conference, his credentials may be restored to him.

3. If an ordained elder or deacon shall refuse to surrender his credentials of ordination when lawfully asked to do so, he thereby forfeits them and, at its first session thereafter, his annual conference should declare them forfeited.

VI. Proceedings Against a Preacher on Probation

¶ 416. A preacher on probation in an annual conference shall be accountable for his moral and Christian conduct to the quarterly conference of the district within the bounds of which he travels. If charges are brought against him, he shall be tried the same as a local preacher. After confession of flagrant sin, however, he can be allowed by the annual conference to withdraw from the church under complaint. If a preacher on probation is discontinued for cause and has his membership fixed on a circuit by the stationing committee, he is thereby cleared, so far as the annual conference is concerned, of all charges that may have been brought against him.

VII. The Trial of a Local Preacher

¶ 417. An accused local preacher or evangelist shall be tried by the quarterly conference of which he is a member; or, at the option of the quarterly conference, by a committee of not less than five nor more than nine, chosen for this purpose by the quarterly conference, which shall have power to reprove, suspend or expel, according to the nature of the case and as justice may require. The superintendent shall preside at the trial.

But if, for any reason, the superintendent is unable to preside, or if he is personally so related to the case as to be disqualified for presiding, the bishop who last presided at the annual conference shall appoint another elder to preside.

¶ 418. If a charge of gross immorality is brought against a local preacher or evangelist in the interval of the sessions of the quarterly conference, the superintendent shall call a committee of not less than five members of the quarterly conference, which shall have power to suspend until the next session of the quarterly conference.

¶ 419. 1. Whenever a change of venue is granted, the quarterly conference to which it is removed shall take cognizance of the case and give it a hearing at its first regular session.

2. If in the change of venue the case is removed to a quarterly conference over which another superintendent presides, then that superintendent shall preside at the trial.

¶ 420. Any local preacher or evangelist feeling aggrieved at the decision of his case, shall be allowed an appeal to the ensuing session of the annual conference.

VIII. The Trial of an Accused Lay Member

1. GROUND OF COMPLAINT—DISCIPLINARY LABOR—PENALTIES

¶ 421. 1. The neglect of duties required by the Word of God or indulgence of sinful tempers, words or actions, or the violating of conditions of church membership, shall subject the offender to private reproof by the official members of the church having oversight of him, and, if he persists after proper admonition and labor, to summary proceedings to terminate membership, trial, and censure or expulsion. In any determination of the case, however, the action may be suspended by the committee, and he may be placed on probation, with status of preparatory membership, for not more than one year.

2. Whenever it becomes necessary to appoint a committee to admonish and labor with an erring member, if after admonishment and labor he persists in his way, he may be cited by that committee to appear before the official board to show cause why his membership should not be terminated. In no event shall his membership be terminated until the official board by ballot vote of two thirds of the total membership has so ordered.

3. Should it become necessary to cite a member to show cause why his membership should not be terminated, let the committee appointed to admonish and labor issue the citation and attach thereto a statement of the charge constituting the error. The citation should state the time and place he is to appear before the official board. The citation must be served on the member personally or by registered mail not less than ten days before the hearing. Should the official board find good cause for the termination of his membership, or should he fail to appear, his membership in the church may be terminated at the expiration of thirty days. If, however, within thirty days after the final action of the official board he request a trial, it shall be granted.

2. NOTIFICATION OF TIME AND PLACE OF TRIAL

¶ 422. Any member against whom a charge is brought shall be furnished, by the persons bringing the charge, or by the presiding officer of the tribunal to which he is judicially responsible, with a copy of the charges against him, at least fourteen days before the trial, unless he demands an earlier trial. He shall also, at least ten days prior to its election, be notified of the place of the election of the committee to try the case.

3. ELECTION OF TRIAL COMMITTEE

¶ 423. When charges are preferred against a member, the preacher who is to preside at the trial shall call a meeting of the society, which shall select a committee of not less than five nor more than nine, who shall be lay members of the church within the bounds of the annual conference, to try the case. No preacher belonging to an annual conference, either on probation or in full membership, shall be eligible to act on this committee.

¶ 424. If the society shall refuse to appoint such a committee, the quarterly conference shall appoint a committee to try the case, and if, after conviction, the member appeals to the quarterly conference, no member of that committee shall be eligible to sit as a juror in the trial of the case.

4. PRESIDING OFFICER

¶ 425. The preacher in charge, when in full membership in the conference, shall preside at the trial of his members; but the district superintendent may, for sufficient reasons, appoint some other traveling preacher in full membership to preside at any particular trial. The district superintendent shall not preside.

5. RIGHT OF APPEAL

¶ 426. Any member who has been tried and convicted by a committee, shall be entitled to an appeal to the next quarterly conference, provided he did not voluntarily absent himself from the trial, and provided he gave notice of his intention to appeal at the time of his condemnation, or within thirty days after having been notified thereof. Should he be tried and convicted by the quarterly conference, he shall have the right of an appeal to the ensuing annual conference, provided that within thirty days of having been notified of the verdict he files the appeal and that he has complied with the other requirements of this paragraph.

6. RESTRICTIONS UNDER PENALTY

¶ 427. A member under penalty for unchristian conduct shall not be permitted to exercise any official functions, except that of trustee in states where the civil law does not, for such a reason, permit the suspension from office of a trustee. He shall vacate all offices (except that of trustee as explained above) and surrender all credentials, to be held during the period of the penalty by the secretary of the body which issued them.

7. RESTORATION OF MEMBERSHIP

¶ 428. 1. A person placed on probation in accordance with the provisions in Par. 421, Sec. 1, may, at the expiration of the probation, have his membership restored upon recommendation of the official board, a three-fourths vote of the society, and satisfactory answers to the questions in Par. 87.

2. A member who has been expelled and later proved innocent may be restored to membership by vote of the society from which he was expelled.

IX. Citation of Society, Quarterly Conference, or Annual Conference to Show Cause

¶ 429. 1. The Board of Administration shall have the power to cite a society, a quarterly conference, or an annual conference to appear before it to show cause, if any it has, why it should not be declared in a state of insubordination when reliable information reaches the board that the accused body is openly in a state of insubordination and disobedience. Notice of the order to show cause shall be given in a clear and definite statement of the facts constituting the state of insubordination so that the accused body may be properly informed of the grounds of the accusation. The order shall be served upon the secretary of the accused body. Should the Board find it guilty or should it admit guilt, the Board shall have the power to suspend it of all rights and of recognition as a Free Methodist body until the ensuing General Conference, which shall have final disposition of the case.

2. Should the convicted body reform and pledge its loyalty to the church and the DISCIPLINE and show contrition for its insubordination, the Board of Administration shall have the power to reinstate it.

X. Citation of Preacher to Show Cause

¶ 430. 1. A bishop shall have the power to cite a preacher to appear before a committee of not more than six persons, three of whom shall be ministers and three laymen, there to show cause, if any he may have, why he should not be declared in a state of insubordination and maladministration when the bishop has reasonable cause to believe that the preacher is in a state of insubordination or in violation of the DISCIPLINE, or when he has been accused of willful neglect in the administration of the DISCIPLINE or refusal of work assigned to him by the annual conference.

2. Should the preacher be so cited, he shall be furnished with a statement of facts purporting to constitute the insubordination and maladministration, stating time, place, and action. The citation shall show the date, hour, and place where he is to appear, and the names of the members of the committee appointed by the bishop. Should the committee find him guilty of maladministration and insubordination, or should he plead guilty, the committee shall have the power to suspend him of all rights as a minister until the sitting of his annual conference, with whom the final decision of his case shall be; and should the conference take no action, or refuse to take action, a trial committee may be appointed by the Board of Administration, consisting of not less than six and not more than twelve persons, one half of whom shall be ministers and one half laymen, before whom the preacher shall be tried, according to the procedure for trial of preachers, and if he is found guilty, the committee shall have the power to censure, rebuke, or expel him according to the terms of the DISCIPLINE.

Paragraphs 429 and 430 shall not be so construed as to deprive the accused of the right to challenge for cause any person appointed to sit on the trial committee.

CHAPTER II

INSOLVENCIES AND THE SETTLEMENT OF DISPUTES

¶ 440. In a dispute between two or more lay members concerning the payment of debts, or other matters not involving personal character, which cannot be settled by the persons concerned, the preacher in charge of the circuit shall inquire into the circumstances and recommend a reference, consisting of one arbiter chosen by the plaintiff, another chosen by the defendant, and a third chosen by the first two, the three arbiters being members of the church.

¶ 441. Should one of the disputants be dissatisfied with the judgment given, he may appeal to the ensuing quarterly conference, which may for sufficient reason grant a second arbitration, in which each party shall choose two arbiters, and the four arbiters shall choose a fifth, the judgment of the majority of whom shall be final; and any person refusing to abide by that judgment shall be excluded from the church.

¶ 442. If any member of the church shall refuse, in case of debt or other dispute, to refer the matter to arbitration, when recommended by his pastor, or shall enter into a lawsuit with another before such measures are taken, he shall be expelled by a regular trial according to the DISCIPLINE, unless the case be of such a nature as to require or justify a process of law.

¶ 443. When a complaint is made against any member of the church for nonpayment of debt and when the accounts are adjusted and the amount is ascertained, the preacher in charge of the circuit shall call the debtor before a committee of at least three, to show the cause why he does not make payment. The committee shall determine what further time shall be granted him for payment; and should he refuse to comply, he shall be expelled; but in that event he may appeal to the quarterly conference, the decision of which shall be final; and in case the creditor complains that justice is not done him, he may lay his grievance before the quarterly conference, and its decision shall be final; and if the creditor refuses to comply, he shall be expelled. In case the debtor refuses or neglects to comply with the findings of the committee or of the quarterly conference, the creditor may have recourse to the civil courts without affecting his membership in the church.

¶ 444. To prevent scandal, when any member of the church fails in business or contracts debts which he is not able to pay, two or three judicious members of the church shall inspect the accounts, contracts, and circumstances of the supposed delinquent; and if he has behaved dishonestly, or borrowed money without a probability of paying, he shall be expelled. The official body to which he is amenable shall appoint the committee of inspection.

PART VII
TEMPORAL ECONOMY

CHAPTERS

- I. SUPPORT OF EFFECTIVE MINISTERS
- II. CHURCH PROPERTY

CHAPTER I

SUPPORT OF EFFECTIVE MINISTERS*

I. Support of Bishops

¶ 450. The salaries of our bishops shall be raised by the general service fund.

II. Support of District Superintendents

¶ 451. The superintendent shall be supported by the conference or district to which he is appointed, as provided for in Par. 343, each circuit contributing its proportion, as agreed upon in the annual or quarterly conference. A stationed district superintendent shall be supported by the circuit or charge to which he is appointed.

A home purchased for the superintendent can be rented to others only if he consents and receives the rental.

III. Support of Preachers in Charge

¶ 452. 1. It shall be the duty of the finance committee recommended in Par. 270, Sec. 5, to prepare, after consulting with the preacher in charge, an estimate of the amount necessary for the support of the preacher or preachers stationed with them, and to present the estimate to the official board for action.

2. The finance committee shall report regularly to the official board.

3. The membership is requested to co-operate heartily with this plan, giving not less than one tenth of the net annual income for the Lord's work.

4. If a pastor refuses to occupy the parsonage, the official board may, without his consent, rent it to others but must pay him the money received from it.

* For the support of retired ministers, see Plan for Conference Claimants, Pars. 123-128, and for bishops, Par. 333.

IV. Support of Evangelists

¶ 453. Evangelists shall depend upon the fields in which they labor for their support, except general evangelists, whose salaries are provided by appropriations from the Commission on Evangelism and by collection on their fields of labor.

CHAPTER II

CHURCH PROPERTY

I. Trustees—Election and Duties

¶ 460. Any board of trustees in the Free Methodist Church, whether conference, district, or local, shall consist of not less than three nor more than nine persons, of whom two thirds shall be members of the Free Methodist Church.

¶ 461. 1. Boards of trustees shall be elected by their respective bodies: conference trustees by the annual conference, district trustees by the quarterly conference, circuit trustees by the annual circuit meeting, and local trustees by the society.

2. Trustees of property of an extinct, unincorporated society embraced within a circuit shall be elected by the annual circuit meeting.

3. Trustees shall be elected only in a manner allowed by the laws of the state in which the election is held, and shall hold office for a term fixed by the body electing them and until their successors are elected.

¶ 462. When for a period of one year a duly elected trustee refuses by his action to attend legally called meetings of the board of trustees, the body electing him shall declare his place on the board vacant and at once elect a successor to fill the unexpired term; and whenever a member of the Free Methodist Church who holds the office of trustee is dismissed by letter, withdraws from the church, is expelled, or moves beyond the bounds of the body which elected him, that body may declare his place vacant and at once elect a successor to fill the unexpired term, except where either of such declarations is in conflict with the law of the state.

¶ 463. A board of trustees is subject at all times to the direction and control of the body which created it and to the DISCIPLINE of the Free Methodist Church. Local trustees are subject to the official board as well as to the society. When action of a board of trustees is required, it can be exercised only by official vote of the board in a regularly called meeting.

¶ 464. 1. The office of trustee is a responsible one, and its duties are to be taken seriously. A board of trustees shall have and hold in trust any and all property committed to it. It shall see that titles are good; that deeds are drawn in harmony with the laws of the state; that they contain the trust clause given in Par. 466; that they are immediately recorded; and that abstracts and other valuable papers are safely stored. The board of trustees shall be responsible to the electing body for the general oversight of the property committed to it, and, when so directed by the electing body, shall supervise expenditures for repairs, improvements, and alterations. A board of trustees may be appointed the building committee for a new building.

2. Annually and whenever else the chairman of the electing body may require, the president of the board of trustees shall make to the electing body a report of all business transacted, including a statement of the financial and material condition of all property entrusted to it.

3. Prohibitive measures. A board of trustees shall not accept a deed which contains a clause by which the land conveyed may revert to the original grantor, his heirs, or assigns. A board of trustees shall not permit church property to be sold, mortgaged, or otherwise encumbered for current expenses. No other denomination shall be permitted to hold stated appointments in any of our churches without the consent of both the preacher in charge and a majority of the board of trustees.

II. Incorporation and Deeds

¶ 465. Before an annual conference, a quarterly conference, a circuit, or a society purchases real estate, let a reliable lawyer be consulted. Provide him with a copy of our DISCIPLINE for reference, and wherever the law of the state or territory will permit, proceed to incorporate. The articles of incorporation, wherever the law will permit, should provide that the corporation shall be subject to the rules, regulations, doctrines, and DISCIPLINE of the Free Methodist Church, incorporated as "The Free Methodist Church of North America," as from time to time adopted by the General Conference of that church in so far as they do not contravene the laws of the state, and that the secular affairs of the corporation shall be managed by trustees elected according to the provisions of this chapter. When incorporation is complete the deed shall be made out directly to the owning body in its corporate name and shall without exception contain the trust clause given in the following paragraph.

¶ 466. In states where the law requires church property to be held by trustees, and in states where incorporation can not be secured as provided for in the preceding paragraph, let all deeds be made to trustees, naming them and their successors in office, and containing the following trust clause: "In trust for the use and benefit of the membership of the Free Methodist Church of North America, incorporated under the name of 'The Free Methodist Church of North America,' subject to the DISCIPLINE, usages and ministerial appointments of said church, as from time to time authorized and declared; and, if sold, the proceeds shall be disposed of and used in accordance with the provisions of said DISCIPLINE, and of the civil law; and in further trust and confidence that in the houses of worship now erected or that may hereafter be erected on said premises hereby conveyed, the seats shall be forever free; and in further trust and confidence that the said trustees and their successors in office shall permit at all times the preachers who may be duly authorized according to the DISCIPLINE of the said Free Methodist Church, to hold religious services in said houses of worship according to said DISCIPLINE."

¶ 467. Whenever it becomes advisable and the electing body so authorizes, the trustees may sell or encumber or otherwise dispose of or convey church property by securing the consent of the superintendent of the district in which the property lies and of the Board of Directors of the Free Methodist Church of North America; provided that in all cases the proceeds of such sales shall be used for the purchase or improvement of property for the same uses and deeded to the same corporation or trustees, or held subject to the order of the annual conference in which the property lies.

¶ 468. Whenever any property is no longer used for church purposes and is declared abandoned by the annual conference, the trustees, if any remain, shall sell it and turn over the proceeds of sale to the annual conference. If no such trustees remain, the trustees of the annual conference shall take possession of the property by due process of law. The annual conference may authorize the conference board of trustees to sell and convey such property, the proceeds of sale to be used as the conference may direct, in accordance with the civil law.

III. Erection of Churches

¶ 469. 1. All our houses of worship must be built plain and neat, without steeples, and no more expensive than is absolutely required for comfort, convenience, and stability, and with all seats free.

2. No step shall be taken involving pecuniary liability in erecting houses of worship or parsonages, or in purchasing church property of any kind, until one half of the amount necessary to meet the estimated cost is secured in reliable subscriptions.

3. No houses of worship, parsonages, or other church buildings shall be erected on leased ground, except on reservations or in other places where it is impossible to secure a deed in fee, or without the unanimous consent of the Board of Church Extension and Aid Society of the annual conference in whose territory the property is situated.

4. Each annual conference shall appoint a committee of not less than three on "Church Buildings and Locations," and no church shall be built within the bounds of the conference without this committee's approval in writing both of the location and the plan of the building and of the title of the property. A society which selects a location or erects a church building without such consent shall not receive aid from the Church Extension and Aid Society. This committee shall make sure that proper accommodations have been made for the Sunday school before giving its approval.

5. The Executive Commission is authorized to collect information on heating, lighting, ventilating, and comfortable seating of churches; to secure cuts, drawings, and working plans of church buildings which conform to Free Methodist standards; and to make the information and plans available to societies desiring to build. All societies intending to build are urgently requested to secure this information from the Executive Commission and to make such use of it as local conditions permit.

- II. THE LORD'S SUPPER
- III. THE MARRIAGE CEREMONY
- IV. THE BURIAL OF THE DEAD
- V. ORDINATION SERVICES
- VI. DEDICATION OF CHURCHES

CHAPTER I

BAPTISM

¶ 480. 1. Adult persons and the parents of every child to be baptized shall have the choice of immersion, sprinkling, or pouring.

2. We will on no account whatever make a charge for administering baptism.

I. Of Infants

[The minister coming to the font, which is to be filled with pure water, shall use the following:]

¶ 481. Dearly beloved, inasmuch as our Saviour, Christ, saith, "Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of God"; and as the holy apostle St. Peter declares that, "The promise is unto you and to your children," therefore this child has been brought hither that he may be consecrated by this solemn ordinance to the service of his Creator, and that he may receive the sign and seal of the covenant of grace into which God is mercifully pleased to enter with all His children;

I beseech you to call upon God the Father, through our Lord Jesus Christ, that of his bounteous mercy he will grant unto this child, that he being made partaker of the divine nature may grow up into Christ our living head in all things, till he comes in the unity of the faith and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ; and unto these parents the needed grace that they may properly discharge all the duties they owe to this child which God has given them.

[Then shall the minister say:]

Let us pray.

Almighty and everlasting God, the aid of all who need, the helper of all who flee to thee for succor, the covenant-keeping God, we thank thee that thou hast made it our privilege to dedicate our children to thy service, that they may live to thy glory, and gain everlasting life. We call upon thee for this child that he may be delivered from the power of sin and Satan, and be sanctified by the power of the Holy Ghost, and enjoy the everlasting benediction of thy heavenly washing. We pray thee for these parents, that they may realize how great is the responsibility resting upon them touching the proper training of those entrusted to their care; we beseech thee to grant upon them the aid of thy Holy Spirit, that both by precept and example they may so lead this child in the narrow way of life, that both parent and child may come to the everlasting kingdom, which thou hast promised by Christ our Lord. Amen.

[Then shall the people stand up and the minister shall say:]

Hear the words of the gospel written by St. Mark, in the tenth chapter, commencing with the thirteenth verse:

They brought young children to Christ, that he should touch them. And his disciples rebuked those that brought them; but when Jesus saw it, he was much displeased, and said unto them, Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of God. Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall not enter therein. And he took them up in his arms, put his hands upon them, and blessed them.

[Then shall the minister demand of the parents severally, as follows:]

Ques. Dost thou, in the presence of God, and of these witnesses, solemnly dedicate this child to the Lord, that he may live in his service all his days?

Ans. I do.

Ques. Dost thou, so far as thou canst, in his behalf, renounce the devil and all his works, the vain pomp and glory of the world, with all covetous desires of the same, and the sinful desires of the flesh, so that, in the training of this child, thou wilt not follow nor be led by them; and so that, as far as in thee lies, thou wilt prevent him from following the same?

Ans. I do.

Ques. Dost thou believe in the Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments?

Ans. I do.

Ques. Wilt thou, out of the same, diligently teach this child the statutes and commandments of the Most High; and wilt thou train him up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord?

Ans. I will.

[Then the minister shall take the child into his hands and say to the friends of the child:]

Name this child.

[And then, naming it after them, he shall sprinkle or pour water upon it, or, if desired, immerse it in water, saying:]

N., I baptize thee in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen.

[Then he shall say, all kneeling:]

Our Father which art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil; for thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, forever. Amen.

[Then shall the minister conclude with extemporary prayer.]

II. Of Those of Riper Years

¶ 482. Dearly beloved, since all men are by nature sinners, and have nothing in themselves by which they can be delivered from the guilt and pollution of sin, and attain to that holiness without which no man can see the Lord, we invite you to join with us in fervent prayer for these persons, that they may have grace always to keep their covenant with God, and that they may continually enjoy the washing of regeneration, and the renewing of the Holy Ghost.

[Then shall the minister say:]

Almighty and immortal God, the aid of all that need, the helper of all that flee to thee for succor, the life of them that believe, and the resurrection of the dead; we call upon thee for these persons; that they, coming to thy holy baptism, may by this rite truthfully testify to that inner washing through faith in the precious blood of thy Son Jesus Christ, and that they may enjoy the everlasting benediction of this heavenly washing and come to the eternal kingdom which thou hast promised by Christ our Lord.

[Then shall the people stand up, and the minister shall say:]

Hear the words of the Saviour as recorded in the gospel written by St. Matthew, in the twenty-eighth chapter. "Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world. Amen."

[Then the minister shall speak to the person to be baptized in this wise:]

Well beloved, who here present yourselves for holy baptism, you have heard how the congregation hath prayed that God would continue his loving favor toward you and bring you unto his eternal kingdom. And God, the covenant-keeping God, hath promised by his only begotten Son whom he yielded up for our redemption that he would grant these gracious favors. Wherefore you must promise upon your part in the presence of this congregation that you, renouncing the devil and all his works, will implicitly believe God's holy word and obediently keep his commandments.

[Then shall the minister demand of each of the persons to be baptized, severally:]

Ques. Dost thou renounce the devil and all his works, the vain pomp and glory of the world, with all covetous desires of the same, and the carnal desires of the flesh, so that thou wilt not follow nor be led by them?

Ans. I renounce them all.

Ques. Dost thou believe in God, the Father Almighty, Maker of heaven and earth? and in Jesus Christ, his only begotten Son, our Lord? and that he was conceived by the Holy Ghost, born of the Virgin Mary? that he suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, dead and buried? that he arose again on the third day? that he ascended into heaven, and sitteth at the right hand of God, the Father Almighty, and from thence shall come again, at the end of the world, to judge the quick and the dead?

And dost thou believe in the Holy Ghost, the communion of saints; the remission of sins; the resurrection of the body, and everlasting life after death?

Ans. All this I steadfastly believe.

Ques. Wilt thou be baptized in this faith?

Ans. This is my desire.

Ques. Wilt thou obediently keep God's will and commandments, and walk in the same all the days of thy life?

Ans. I will endeavor so to do, God being my helper.

[Then shall the minister say:]

Almighty and everlasting God, author of life eternal, grant that the regenerating grace which thou hast so mercifully vouchsafed to these persons may not have been bestowed in vain. Grant also that they may enjoy that greater baptism of the Holy Ghost to the end that all carnal affections may be destroyed in them and that every Christian grace and virtue may freely live and grow in them. Amen. Almighty God, Father of all mankind, Eternal Son, Deliverer of thine Israel, Holy Spirit, Guide of thy people, grant that these persons may have constant victory over the world, the flesh and the devil, and that they may enjoy the fullness of thy grace and ever remain in the number of thy faithful and elect children. We ask it through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

[Then shall the minister take by the right hand each person to be baptized, and placing him conveniently by the font, according to his discretion, shall ask the name and then sprinkle or pour water upon him (or if he shall desire it, shall immerse him in water), saying:]

N., I baptize thee in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen.

[Then shall be said the Lord's Prayer, all kneeling, concluding with extemporary prayer and the benediction.]

CHAPTER II

THE LORD'S SUPPER

(The use of individual communion cups is recommended, wherever practicable.)

I. General Directions

¶ 483. 1. Let all our ministers exercise due care to see that no person known to be living an immoral life, or to be guilty of any disreputable practice be admitted to the Lord's table among us until he shall have given satisfactory evidence of repentance and amendment of life.

2. All persons properly included in the general invitation may be allowed to partake of the Lord's Supper among us.

II. Order for the Administration of the Lord's Supper

[The elder may say:]

¶ 484. Ye that do truly and earnestly repent of your sins, and are in love and charity with your neighbors, and intend to lead a new life, following the commandments of God, and walking henceforth in his holy ways, draw near with faith, and take this holy sacrament to your comfort; and, meekly kneeling, make your humble confession to Almighty God.

[Then may this general confession be made:]

Almighty God, Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, Maker of all things, Judge of all men, we acknowledge and bewail the manifold sins and wickedness of our past lives, which we from time to time most grievously have committed, by thought, word, and deed, against thy Divine Majesty, provoking most justly thy wrath and indignation against us. We do earnestly repent, and are heartily sorry for these our past misdoings; the remembrance of them is grievous unto us. Have mercy upon us, have mercy upon us, most merciful Father, for thy Son, our Lord Jesus Christ's sake, forgive us all that is past; and grant that we may ever hereafter serve and please thee in newness of life, to the honor and glory of thy name, through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

[Or in place of it the elder may say the Lord's Prayer, the people repeating it with him.]

Our Father which art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors, And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil; for thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, forever. Amen.

[Then may the elder say:]

O Almighty God, our heavenly Father, who of thy great mercy hast promised forgiveness of sins to all them that with hearty repentance and true faith turn unto thee, have mercy upon us, pardon and deliver us from our sins, confirm and strengthen us in all goodness, and bring us to everlasting life, through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

THE COLLECT

Almighty God, unto whom all hearts are opened, all desires known, and from whom no secrets are hid; cleanse the thoughts of our hearts, by the inspiration of the Holy Spirit, that we may perfectly love thee, and worthily magnify thy holy name, through Christ, our Lord. Amen.

[Then may the elder say:]

It is very meet, right, and our bounden duty that we should at all times, and in all places, give thanks unto thee, O Lord, holy Father, Almighty and everlasting God.

Therefore, with angels and archangels, and with all the company of heaven, we laud and magnify thy glorious name, evermore praising thee, and saying, Holy, holy, holy, Lord God of hosts, heaven and earth are full of thy glory. Glory be to thee, O Lord most high. Amen.

[Then may the elder say:]

We do not presume to come to this thy table, O merciful Lord, trusting in our own righteousness, but in thy manifold and great mercies. We are not worthy so much as to gather up the crumbs under thy table. But thou art the same Lord, whose property is always to have mercy; grant us therefore, gracious Lord, so to eat the flesh of thy dear Son, Jesus Christ, and to drink his blood, that we may live and grow thereby, and that being washed through his most precious blood, we may evermore dwell in him, and he in us. Amen.

[Then may the elder say the prayer of consecration, as follows:]

Almighty God, our heavenly Father, who of thy tender mercy didst give thine only Son, Jesus Christ, to suffer death upon the cross for our redemption, who made there, by his oblation of himself once offered, a full, perfect, and sufficient sacrifice, oblation and satisfaction, for the sins of the whole world; and did institute, and in his holy gospel command us to continue a perpetual memory of that his precious death until his coming again; hear us, O merciful Father, we most humbly beseech thee, and grant that we, receiving these, thy creatures of bread and wine, according to thy Son, our Saviour Jesus Christ's holy institution, in remembrance of his death and passion may be partakers of his most blessed body and blood; who, in the same night that he was betrayed, took bread;

[Here the elder may take the plate of bread into his hand.]
and when he had given thanks, he broke it and gave it to his disciples, saying, Take, eat; this is my body which is given for you; do this in remembrance of me. Likewise after supper he took the cup;

[Here he may take the cup in his hand.]
and when he had given thanks, he gave it to them, saying, Drink ye all of this; for this is my blood of the New Testament, which is shed for you and for many, for the remission of sins; do this as oft as ye shall drink it, in remembrance of me. Amen.

[And here he may lay his hand upon all the vessels which contain the wine.]

[Then may the minister first receive the communion in both kinds himself, and then proceed to deliver the same to the other ministers in like manner (if any there be present), and after that to the people also; in order, into their hands. And when he delivers the bread he shall say:]

The body of our Lord Jesus Christ, which was given for thee, preserve thy soul and body unto everlasting life. Take and eat this in remembrance that Christ died for thee, and feed on him in thy heart, by faith, with thanksgiving.

[And the minister that delivers the cup may say:]

The blood of our Lord Jesus Christ, which was shed for thee, preserve thy soul and body unto everlasting life. Drink this in remembrance that Christ's blood was shed for thee, and be thankful.

[If the consecrated bread or wine shall be all spent before all have communicated, the elder may consecrate more, by repeating the prayer of consecration.

When all have communed the minister shall return to the Lord's table and place upon it what remaineth of the consecrated elements, covering the same with a fair linen cloth.

Here the elder may offer extemporary prayer, concluding with this blessing:]

May the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, keep your hearts and minds in the knowledge and love of God, and of his Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord; and the blessings of God Almighty, the Father, the Son and the Holy Ghost, be among you and remain with you always. Amen.

CHAPTER III

THE MARRIAGE CEREMONY

¶ 485. [At the day and time appointed for the solemnizing of matrimony, the persons to be married standing together, the man on the right hand of the woman, the minister shall say:]

Dearly beloved, we are gathered together here in the sight of God, and in the presence of these witnesses, to join together this man and this woman in holy matrimony; which is an honorable estate, instituted of God in the time of man's innocency, signifying unto us the mystical union that is between Christ and his Church; which holy estate Christ adorned and beautified with his presence, and first miracle that he wrought in Cana of Galilee, and is commended of St. Paul to be honorable among all men; and therefore is not by any to be taken in hand unadvisedly, but reverently, discreetly, and in the fear of God.

Into which holy estate these two persons present come now to be joined. Therefore, if any can show any just cause why they may not lawfully be joined together, let him now speak, or else hereafter forever hold his peace.

[And also speaking unto the persons that are to be married, he may say:]

I require and charge you both (as you will answer at the dreadful day of judgment, when the secrets of all hearts shall be disclosed) that if either of you know any impediment why you may not be lawfully joined together in matrimony, you do now confess it, for be ye well assured, that so many as are coupled together otherwise than God's word doth allow, are not joined together by God, neither is their matrimony lawful.

[If no impediment be alleged, then shall the minister say unto the man:]

M., wilt thou have this woman to be thy wedded wife, to live together after God's ordinance, in the holy estate of matrimony? Wilt thou love her, comfort her, honor, and keep her, in sickness and in health; and, forsaking all others, keep thee only unto her, so long as ye both shall live?

[Then the man shall answer:]

I will.

[Then the minister shall say unto the woman:]

N., wilt thou have this man to be thy wedded husband, to live together after God's ordinance, in the holy estate of matrimony? Wilt thou love, honor and keep him, in sickness and in health; and, forsaking all others, keep thee only unto him, so long as ye both shall live?

[Then the woman shall answer:]

I will.

[Then shall the minister join their right hands together, and say:]

Those whom God hath joined together let not man put asunder.

Inasmuch as M. and N. have consented together in holy wedlock, and have witnessed the same before God, and this company, and thereto have pledged their faith each to the other, and have declared the same by joining hands; I pronounce that they are husband and wife together, in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen.

[And the minister shall add this blessing:]

God the Father, God the Son, God the Holy Ghost, bless, preserve, and keep you; the Lord mercifully with his favor look upon you, and so fill you with all spiritual benediction and grace, that ye may so live together in this life, that in the world to come ye may have life everlasting. Amen.

[Then let prayer be offered.]

CHAPTER IV

THE BURIAL OF THE DEAD

¶ 486. We will on no account make a charge for burying the dead.

[The minister, meeting the corpse, and going before it shall say:]

I am the resurrection and the life; he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live; and whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die (John 11: 25, 26).

I know that my redeemer liveth, and that he shall stand at the latter day upon the earth; and though after my skin worms destroy this body, yet in my flesh shall I see God; whom I shall see for myself, and mine eyes shall behold, and not another (Job 19:25-27).

We brought nothing into this world, and it is certain we can carry nothing out. The Lord gave, and the Lord hath taken away; blessed be the name of the Lord (1 Tim. 6:7; Job 1:21).

[At the grave, while the corpse is being laid in the earth, the minister shall say:]

Man that is born of woman hath but a short time to live, and is full of misery. He cometh up and is cut down like a flower: he fleeth as it were a shadow and never continueth in one stay.

In the midst of life we are in death; of whom may we seek for succor but of thee, O Lord, who for our sins art justly displeased?

Yet, O Lord God most holy, O Lord most mighty, O holy and most merciful Saviour, deliver us not into the bitter pains of eternal death.

Thou knowest, Lord, the secrets of our hearts; shut not thy merciful ears to our prayers, but spare us, Lord most holy, O God most mighty, O holy and most merciful Saviour, thou most worthy Judge eternal, suffer us not at our last hour for any pains of death to fall from thee.

[Then while the earth shall be cast upon the body, the minister shall say:]

Inasmuch as it hath pleased Almighty God, in his wise providence, to take out of this world the soul of our deceased brother, (sister, or child) we therefore commit his, (or her) body to the ground; earth to earth, ashes to ashes, dust to dust; looking for the general resurrection in the last day, and the life of the world to come, through our Lord Jesus Christ; at whose second coming in glorious majesty to judge the world, the earth and the sea shall give up their dead; and the corruptible bodies of those who sleep in him shall be changed, and made like unto his own glorious body; according to the mighty working whereby he is able to subdue all things unto himself.

I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, Write: from henceforth blessed are the dead who die in the Lord; even so, saith the Spirit, for they rest from their labors.

Our Father which art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. Amen.

THE COLLECT

O merciful God, the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who is the resurrection and the life; in whom whosoever believeth shall live, though he die; and whosoever liveth and believeth in him shall not die eternally; we meekly beseech thee, O Father, to raise us from the death of sin unto the life of righteousness, that when we shall depart this life we may rest in him; and at the general resurrection, on the last day, may be found acceptable in thy sight, and receive that blessing which thy well-beloved Son shall then pronounce to all that love and fear thee, saying, Come, ye blessed of my Father, receive the kingdom prepared for you from the beginning of the world. Grant this, we beseech thee, O merciful Father, through Jesus Christ, our Redeemer. Amen.

The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the fellowship of the Holy Ghost, be with us all evermore. Amen.

CHAPTER V

ORDINATION SERVICES.

I. Ordination of Elders

¶ 487. [When the time appointed for ordination shall have come one of the elders shall present unto the president those who are to be ordained, saying:

"I present unto you these persons (reading their names aloud) to be ordained elders." Then the president shall say unto the people:]

Brethren, these are they whom we purpose, God willing, this day to ordain elders. For after due examination, we find not to the contrary, but that they are lawfully called to this function and ministry, and that they are persons meet for the same. But if any of you know any impediment or crime in any of them, for which he ought not to be received into this holy ministry, come forth in the name of God, and show what the crime or impediment is.

[If no crime nor impediment be alleged, then shall be said the collect, epistle, and gospel, as follows:]

THE COLLECT

Almighty God, Giver of all good things, who by the Holy Spirit hast appointed divers orders of ministers in thy church, mercifully behold these, thy servants, now called to the office of elder, and replenish them so with the truth of thy doctrine and adorn them with innocency of life, that both by word and good example they may faithfully serve thee in this office, to the glory of thy name and the edification of thy church, through the mercies of our Saviour, Jesus Christ, who liveth and reigneth with thee and the Holy Ghost, world without end. Amen.

THE EPISTLE—EPHESIANS 4: 7-13

Unto every one of us is given grace according to the measure of the gift of Christ. Wherefore he saith, When he ascended up on high, he led captivity captive and gave gifts unto men. (Now that he ascended, what is it but that he also descended first into the lower parts of the earth? He that descended is the same also that ascended up far above all heavens, that he might fill all things.) And he gave some, apostles; and some, prophets; and some, evangelists; and some, pastors and teachers; for the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ; till we all come in the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ.

THE GOSPEL.—ST. JOHN 10:7-16

Then said Jesus unto them again, Verily, verily, I say unto you, I am the door of the sheep. All that ever came before me are thieves and robbers; but the sheep did not hear them. I am the door; by me, if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and shall go in and out and find pasture. The thief cometh not, but for to steal, and to kill, and to destroy; I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly. I am the good shepherd; the good shepherd giveth his life for the sheep. But he that is an hireling, and not the shepherd, whose own the sheep are not, seeth the wolf coming, and leaveth the sheep, and fleeth; and the wolf catcheth them, and scattereth the sheep. The hireling fleeth, because he is an hireling, and careth not for the sheep. I am the good shepherd, and know my sheep, and am known of mine. As the Father knoweth me, even so know I the Father; and I lay down my life for the sheep. And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold; them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice, and there shall be one fold, and one shepherd.

[And that done, the president shall say unto them as follows:]

You have heard, brethren, in the lessons taken out of the gospel and the writings of the apostles, of what dignity, and of how great importance this office is whereunto ye are called.

We have good hope that you have all weighed and pondered these things with yourselves long before this time; and that you have clearly determined, by God's grace, to give yourselves wholly to this office, whereunto it hath pleased God to call you; so that as much as lieth in you, you will apply yourselves wholly to this one thing, and draw all your cares and studies this way, and that you will continually pray to God the Father by the mediation of our only Saviour, Jesus Christ, for the heavenly assistance of the Holy Ghost; that by daily reading and weighing of the Scriptures, ye may wax riper and stronger in your ministry; and that ye may so endeavor yourselves from time to time to sanctify the lives of you and yours, and to fashion them after the rule and doctrine of Christ, that ye may be wholesome and godly examples and patterns for the people to follow.

And now that this present congregation of Christ, here assembled, may also understand your minds and will in these things, and that this your promise may the more move you to do your duties, ye shall answer plainly to these things which we, in the name of God and his church, shall demand of you touching the same.

Do you think in your heart that you are truly called, according to the will of our Lord Jesus Christ, to the gospel ministry, and to perform the duties of an elder?

Ans. I think so.

President: Are you persuaded that the Holy Scriptures contain sufficiently all doctrines required of necessity for eternal salvation through faith in Jesus Christ? And are you determined out of the said Scriptures to instruct the people committed to your charge, and to teach nothing as required of necessity to salvation but that which you shall be persuaded may be concluded and proved by the Scriptures?

A. I am so persuaded, and have so determined by God's grace.

P. Will you then give your faithful diligence always so to minister the doctrines and sacraments and discipline of Christ, as the Lord hath commanded?

A. I will do so by the help of the Lord.

P. Will you be ready with all faithful diligence to banish and drive away all erroneous and strange doctrines contrary to God's Word; and to use both public and private monitions and exhortations, as well to the sick as to the whole, within your charge, as need shall require and occasion shall be given?

A. I will, the Lord being my helper.

P. Will you be diligent in prayers, and in reading the Holy Scriptures, and such studies as help to a knowledge of the same, laying aside the study of the world and the flesh?

A. I will endeavor so to do, the Lord being my helper.

P. Will you be diligent to frame and fashion yourself and your family according to the doctrine of Christ; and to make both yourself and them, as much as in you lieth, wholesome examples and patterns to the flock of Christ?

A. I shall apply myself thereto, the Lord being my helper.

P. Will you maintain and set forward as much as lieth in you, quietness, peace, and love, among all Christian people, and especially among those who are or may be committed to your charge?

A. I will do so, the Lord being my helper.

[That done, the president shall pray in this wise, and say:]

Let us pray.

Almighty God, our heavenly Father, who of thine infinite love and goodness toward us hast given to us thine only and most dearly beloved Son, Jesus Christ, to be our Redeemer, and the author of everlasting life, for these so great benefits of thy eternal goodness we render unto thee most hearty thanks; we praise and worship thee; and we humbly beseech thee that we may continue to show ourselves thankful unto thee, for these, and all other, thy benefits, and that we may daily increase and go forward in the knowledge and faith of thee and thy Son, by the Holy Spirit, so that thy holy name may be forever glorified, and thy blessed kingdom enlarged, through thy Son, Jesus Christ our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with thee in the unity of the same Holy Spirit, world without end. Amen.

[When this prayer is done, those to be ordained should remain kneeling, and the president, and the elders present, shall lay their hands severally upon the head of each of them, and the president shall say:]

The Lord pour upon thee the Holy Ghost for the office and work of an elder in the Church of God now committed unto thee by the imposition of our hands. And be thou a faithful dispenser of the Word of God, and of his holy sacraments; in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen.

[They shall continue to kneel, and the president shall deliver to each one of them the Bible into his hands, and shall say:]

Take thou authority to preach the Word of God and to administer the holy sacraments in the congregation.

[Then the president shall say:]

Most merciful Father, we beseech thee to send upon these thy servants thy heavenly blessings, that they may be clothed with righteousness and that thy Word spoken by their mouths may have such success, that it may never be spoken in vain. Grant us also that we may have grace to hear and receive what they shall deliver out of thy most holy Word, or agreeably to the same, as the means of our salvation; and that in all our words and deeds we may seek thy glory and the increase of thy kingdom through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Assist us, O Lord, in all our doings, with thy most gracious favor, and further us with thy continual help, that in all our works begun, continued and ended in thee, we may glorify thy name, and finally, by thy mercy, obtain everlasting life, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The peace of God, which passeth all understanding, keep your hearts and minds in the knowledge and love of God, and of his Son, Jesus Christ our Lord; and the blessings of God Almighty, the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost, be among you, and remain with you always. Amen.

II. Ordination of Deacons

¶ 488. [When the time appointed for the ordination shall have come, one of the elders shall present unto the president those who are to be ordained, saying: "I present unto you these persons (reading their names aloud) to be ordained deacons." Then the president shall say to the people:]

Brethren, if any of you know any crime or impediment in any of these persons presented to be ordained deacon, for which he ought not to be admitted to that office, come forth in the name of God and show what the crime or impediment is.

[If no crime nor impediment be alleged, then shall be said the following collect and epistle:]

THE COLLECT

Almighty God, who by thy divine providence hast appointed divers orders of ministers in thy Church, and who didst inspire thy apostles to choose into the order of deacons thy first martyr, St. Stephen, with others; mercifully behold these thy servants, now called to the like office and administrations; replenish them so with the truth of thy doctrine, and adorn them with innocency of life, that both by word and good example they may faithfully serve thee in this office, to the glory of thy name, and the edification of thy Church, through the merits of our Saviour, Jesus Christ, who liveth and reigneth with thee and the Holy Ghost, now and forever. Amen.

THE EPISTLE—1 TIMOTHY 3:8-13

Deacons in like manner must be grave, not double-tongued, not given to much wine, not greedy of filthy lucre; holding the mystery of the faith in a pure conscience. And let these also first be proved; then let them serve as deacons if they be blameless. Women in like manner must be grave, not slanderous, temperate, faithful in all things. Let deacons be husbands of one wife, ruling their children and their own houses well. For they that have served well as deacons gain to themselves a good standing, and great boldness in the faith which is in Christ Jesus.

[Then shall the president examine each one of those who are to be ordained, in the presence of the people, after the manner following:]

President: Do you trust that you are inwardly moved by the Holy Ghost to take upon you the office of the ministry in the Church of Christ, to serve God for the promoting of his glory and the edification of his people?

Ans. I trust so.

P. Do you unfeignedly believe all the canonical Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments?

A. I do believe them.

P. Will you diligently read or expound the same unto the people whom you shall be appointed to serve?

A. I will.

P. It appertaineth to the office of a deacon to assist the elder in divine service. And especially when he ministereth the holy communion, and to help him in the distribution thereof, and to read and expound the Holy Scriptures; to instruct the youth, and in the absence of the elder to baptize. And, furthermore, it is his office to search for the sick, poor, and impotent, that they may be visited and relieved. Will you do this gladly and willingly?

A. I will do so by the help of God.

P. Will you apply all your diligence to frame and fashion your own lives (and the lives of your families) according to the doctrine of Christ; and to make (both) yourselves (and them), as much as in you lieth, wholesome examples of the flock of Christ?

A. I will do so, the Lord being my helper.

P. Will you reverently obey them to whom the charge and government over you is committed, following with glad mind and will their godly admonitions?

A. I will endeavor so to do, the Lord being my helper.

[The president, laying his hands severally upon the head of each one of them, shall say:]

Take thou authority to execute the office of a deacon in the Church of God, in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen.

[Then shall the president deliver to each one of them the Holy Bible, saying:]

Take thou authority to read the Holy Scriptures in the Church of God, and to preach in the same.

[Then one of them, appointed by the president, shall read the gospel.]

Luke 12: 35-38: Let your loins be girded about, and your lights burning; and ye yourselves like unto men that wait for their lord, when he will return from the wedding; that when he cometh and knocketh, they may open unto him immediately. Blessed are those servants whom the Lord when he cometh shall find watching. Verily I say unto you, that he shall gird himself, and make them to sit down to meat, and will come forth and serve them. And if he shall come in the second watch, or come in the third watch, and find them so, blessed are those servants.

[Then shall be said the collects following:]

Almighty God, Giver of all good things, who of thy great goodness hast vouchsafed to accept and take these thy servants into the office of deacon of thy Church; make them, we beseech thee, O Lord, to be modest, humble and constant in their ministration, and to have a ready will to observe all spiritual discipline; that they having always the testimony of a good conscience, and continuing ever stable and strong in thy Son, Christ Jesus, may so well behave themselves in this inferior office, that they may be found worthy to be called into the higher ministries in thy Church, through the same, thy Son, our Saviour, Jesus Christ; to whom be glory and honor, world without end. Amen.

Assist us, O Lord, in all our doings, with thy most gracious favor, and further us with thy continual help; that in all our works begun, continued and ended in thee, we may glorify thy holy name, and finally, by thy mercy, obtain everlasting life, through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

The peace of God which passeth all understanding keep your hearts and minds in the knowledge and love of God, and of his Son, Jesus Christ our Lord. And the blessing of God Almighty, the Father, the Son and the Holy Ghost, be among you, and remain with you always. Amen.

CHAPTER VI

DEDICATION OF CHURCHES

¶ 490. [The congregation being assembled, let an appropriate hymn be sung. Afterward, let extemporary prayer be offered. Then shall the minister, or some one appointed, read:]

The first lesson, Psalm 84:

How amiable are thy tabernacles, O Lord of hosts! My soul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the courts of the Lord: my heart and my flesh crieth out for the living God. Yea, the sparrow hath found an house, and the swallow a nest for herself, where she may lay her young, even thine altars, O Lord of hosts, my King, and my God. Blessed are they that dwell in thy house: they will be still praising thee. Selah. Blessed is the man whose strength is in thee; in whose heart are the ways of them. Who passing through the valley of Baca make it a well; the rain also filleth the pools. They go from strength to strength, every one of them in Zion appeareth before God. O Lord God of hosts, hear my prayer: give ear, O God of Jacob. Selah. Behold, O God our shield, and look upon the face of thine anointed. For a day in thy courts is better than a thousand. I had rather be a doorkeeper in the house of my God, than to dwell in the tents of wickedness. For the Lord God is a sun and shield: the Lord will give grace and glory: no good thing will he withhold from them that walk uprightly. O Lord of hosts, blessed is the man that trusteth in thee.

The second lesson, Hebrews 10: 19-26:

Having therefore, brethren, boldness to enter into the holiest by the blood of Jesus, by a new and living way, which he hath consecrated for us, through the veil, that is to say, his flesh; and having an high priest over the house of God; let us draw near with a true heart in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and our bodies washed with pure water. Let us hold fast the profession of our faith without wavering; (for he is faithful that promised;) and let us consider one another to provoke unto love and to good works; not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another: and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching. For if we sin wilfully after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sins.

[Then let an appropriate hymn be sung; after which the minister shall deliver a sermon suitable to the occasion. Contributions may then be received from the people.]

[Then let the trustees stand before the altar, and one of them, or some one in their behalf, say unto the minister:]

We present unto you this building, to be dedicated as a church for the service and worship of Almighty God.

[Then shall the minister request the congregation to stand, while he repeats the following declaration:]

DECLARATION

Dearly beloved, it is meet and right, as we learn from the Holy Scriptures, that houses erected for the public worship of God should be specially set apart and dedicated to religious uses. For such a dedication we are now assembled. With gratitude, therefore, to Almighty God, who has signally blessed his servants in their holy enterprise of erecting this church, we dedicate it to his service, for the reading of the Holy Scriptures, the preaching of the Word of God, the administration of the holy sacraments, and for all other exercises of religious worship and service, according to the DISCIPLINE and usages of the Free Methodist Church.

[Then let the dedicatory prayer be offered.]

Section 3: Each director shall hold office for eight years or for such shorter period as he may have been appointed, and until his successor shall have been elected.

Section 4: Any vacancy occurring in the office of director by reason of death, resignation, or otherwise, except vacancies caused by the removal of the Board of Directors pursuant to the provisions of Section 310 of the Civil Code of the State of California, shall be filled by an appointee of the majority of the remaining directors, though less than a quorum. Such director, so appointed, shall hold office until his successor is elected at the next annual meeting of the members, or at any special meeting duly called for that purpose prior thereto.

When one or more of the directors shall give notice of his or their resignation to the Board, effective at a future date, the Board shall have the power to fill such vacancy or vacancies to take effect when such resignations shall become effective. Each director so appointed shall hold office during the remainder of the term of office of the resigning director or directors, or until their successors are appointed and qualified.

Section 6: All meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held as directed from time to time.

Section 7: Regular meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held annually, without notice, on the Tuesday preceding the second Wednesday of November of each year at the hour of 9:00 o'clock A. M.

An entry of the service of notice, given in the manner above provided, shall be made in the minutes of the proceedings of the Board of Directors, and such entry, if read and approved at a subsequent meeting of the Board of Directors, shall be conclusive on the question of service. Section 10: Each director shall register his address with the secretary, and notices of meetings mailed or telegraphed to such address shall be valid notices thereof.

Section 11: A majority of the whole number of directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, and every act or decision of a majority of the directors present at a meeting at which a quorum is present, made or done when duly assembled, shall be valid as the act of the Board of Directors; but a majority of those present at the time and place of any stated or special meeting, although less than a quorum, may adjourn the same from time to time, or from day to day, without further notice, until a quorum shall attend, and when a quorum shall attend, any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the meeting had the same been held on the day on which the same was originally appointed or called.

Section 12: The Board of Directors shall have full power and authority to borrow money on behalf of the corporation, including the power and authority to borrow money from any of the members, directors or officers of the corporation, and otherwise to incur indebtedness on behalf of the corporation, and to authorize the execution of promissory notes, or other evidences of indebtedness of the corporation, and to agree to pay interest thereon; to sell, convey, alienate, transfer, assign, exchange, lease, and otherwise dispose of, mortgage, pledge, hypothecate, and otherwise encumber the property, real and personal, and the franchises of the corporation; to purchase, lease, and otherwise acquire property, real and personal, on behalf of the corporation; and generally to do and perform, or cause to be done and performed, any and every act which the corporation may lawfully do and perform, providing said total indebtedness of the corporation does not exceed the sum of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000.00).

Section 13: The directors of this corporation shall serve without compensation except for their actual expenses.
